President Johnson Says
Prices Seem to Be Too
High for Those Intended to Benefit by Plan.

The Home and Housing Association, organized with a capital of $2,000,000 to help solve the housing situation in St. Louis by building homes and offering them for sale at approximate cost, has ceased activity because it cannot sell the houses it has on hand.

Jackson Johnson, president of the association, announced this afternoon that the corporation would not suspend, but would stop building houses for a while and await developments.

The association has built 127 homes in different sections, some of them in St. Louis County. It has sold 101. For the 26 still on hand there does not seem to be a demand.

"Demand exaggerated," said Johnson, "seems to be exaggerated. There is no demand for the 26 that we have."

The association has expended about $1,000,000 in building. At first an initial payment of 10 per cent was required. When complaint was made that this was too much the terms were modified and Johnson says the association has been selling houses almost on the people's own terms. Although no profit has been made the complaint has been that the prices are too high for the working people whom the plan was especially intended to benefit. Many of the purchasers of homes were salaried persons.

Terms Equivalent to Rent.
The houses were built in different areas and designs. The inducement offered was, in addition to the small initial payment, easy monthly payments, equivalent to rent, including principal and interest. These payments were so arranged that they would pay for the house at less than it would rent for.

Persons who could pass a satisfactory physical examination were given life insurance policies covering the amount of the indebtedness.

Nelson Cunliffe, who was manager of the association, has been appointed Director of Public Welfare and will take up his new duties next Thursday.

MRS. BERGDOLL PAYS $23,000 IN FINES; WON'T BE IMPRISONED

Sentences of Five Defendants Were to Be Enforced if Money Was Not Paid.
By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the Bergdoll brothers convicted army deserters, saved herself and her four co-defendants charged with conspiracy to aid Grover C. and Erwin R. Bergdoll to evade army service, from going to jail, by paying today $23,000 in fines recently imposed by the United States District Court here.

A certified check drawn by Charles A. Braun, one of Mrs. Bergdoll's sons, who changed his name, was given to the clerk of the court "under protest." It is understood an appeal from the conviction will be taken.

Mrs. Bergdoll, Braun and James E. Romig, a friend of the family, were sentenced May 13 to a year and a day in prison and fined $7000 each, and Harry S. Schuh and Albert S. Mitchell, an automobile salesman, were sentenced to six months' imprisonment and $1000 fine. The court, however, announced that if the fines were paid before June 13 the prison sentences would be remitted.

"MILLION DOLLARS SPENT IN ELECTION"

Newberry's Brother-in-Law Says He Gave $25,000 to Campaign; How Democrat Was "Helped Out."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Details of the 1918 campaign expenditures made in behalf of Senator Newberry continued yesterday to engross the Senate committee engaged in hearing Henry Ford's contest against the seating of the Michigan Senator.

Paul H. King, manager of the Newberry campaign, was recalled to the stand, and Alfred Lucking, counsel for Ford, stated he intended to conduct a prolonged examination of the witness today.

Witnesses were called yesterday to supplement testimony they had given at the trial of the criminal case against the Senator at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The committee also heard at second hand what purported to be Ford's own theory of Senator Newberry's campaign from Allan Templeton of Detroit.

Conspiracy Suspected.
"Mr. Ford called me in after the election," Templeton said, "and told me that he believed a gang of Jews had a general conspiracy to control the Senate and the Government, and that they had backed Newberry. He said that a million dollars had been spent in the State to carry the election."

A Victor Barnes, brother-in-law of the Senator, said he gave $25,000 to the campaign, without being solicited, whereupon Lucking read from trial records book accounts showing Barnes credited with $45,000.

Frank W. Blair, a Detroit banker, who handled the funds, said that "a clerk in my office made a mistake in running off the figure," but the investigation left unsettled the exact source of the extra $20,000.

Democrat Got Money.
William J. Mickel, a Democrat, of Michigan, said he was given $265 from the Newberry campaign to finance a Democratic candidate to run against Ford in the primary election.

"I don't know how you can help your candidate better than by helping me out with mine," he said he told the Newberry committee, adding that he gave him, a Democrat, who consented to run, $50 a week for four weeks, out of the money.

Skyscraper Rentals for New York Skyscrapers

Hundred to 400 Per Cent Advances Revealed in Hearing; $2 a Square Foot Year Ago, $6 to $8 Now.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 10.—Testimony showing heavy increases in office and loft building rentals, varying from 100 per cent last year to 400 per cent since 1915, was given to the Lockwood Legislative Committee yesterday. Increases of 50 per cent were so common, Samuel Untermyer, committee counsel, said, he would not trouble himself to read them into the record.

Some of the buildings named by Untermyer were the Standard Oil Building, 26 Broadway, where it was charged one rent was increased from $100 in 1915 to $400 in 1921, and another from $15,000 in 1920 to $32,000 in 1921; Corn Exchange Building, 15 William street, from $1250 in 1915 to $2400 in 1921; 470 Fourth avenue, $4500 in 1920 to $12,000 in 1921.

Co-operation Promised.
Untermyer also announced that he would communicate with Attorney-General Daugherty in reference to the Federal prosecution of building materials combinations. He said the Federal authorities promised co-operation, but it had not been given, although evidence against 29 illegal groups had been turned over to them.

Untermyer, in argument with officials of the corporation which owns the Equitable Building, the largest office structure in the world, because they had not answered the questionnaire on rent data fully or given the committee requested information on leases, threatened to seize the books unless George T. Mortimer, president of the corporation, would agree to have the data compiled within a few days.

Finally Mortimer agreed to have accountants from the committee assist his own men in the work of immediately preparing the report.

Rent Increase Instances.
Among the many instances of increased rents was one where a tenant whose lease called for $9000 two years ago, now pays $24,000 for the same suite.

There were some cases where offices renting five years ago for a few hundred dollars were leased this year for several thousand dollars. Tenants who paid $2 a square foot last year in a downtown skyscraper signed leases for 1921 requiring payment of $6, $7 and $8 for the same space.

The committee decided to go more fully into the affairs of the Prudential Insurance Co. and those of its president, Forrest F. Dryden, and requested aid in its effort from the State Superintendent of Insurance.

The committee closed its present series of hearings in New York until the latter part of the month in order to conduct an investigation at Buffalo next week.

public scandal, even if she proved she was innocent of any intent at assassination.

Pay Refused Men.
The men came to her and demanded the pay she had offered for playing the part of spirits. Mrs. Kaber said, and she refused to give them a cent, saying they had not followed her instructions and that for her to pay them would be making her a sharer in their guilt. She knew they would not betray her employment of them, she said, because they could not do so without endangering their own necks. But they threatened to kill her, too, if they were not paid, she said, and she slipped away to New York and had lived here more or less secretly, ever since, hiding from them.

Chief Christensen said she told him, "that if I could do less good than harm to tell how it all happened, I could not bring back life to my husband and it seemed to me I was going to lose my own life and that of my daughter, who is just starting out in the world. So I just let the Lord work it out His own way. I am thankful that the strain is over now."

Chief Christensen made no secret of his belief that the "confession" is incomplete. He said he was sure that with Mrs. Kaber's admission that she hired the murderers, even though not as murderers, there was plenty of evidence available from witnesses now in custody in Cleveland to show that she really did plan the killing of her husband.

TWO KROGER ROBBERIES MAKE 70 SINCE 1919

Total of $85 Taken in Store
Holdups Yesterday—Seven
Other Robberies Reported.

Two men entered a Kroger grocery at 2127 Cherokee street at 4 p. m. yesterday and after ordering a can of beans, one produced a revolver and ordered the manager, Frank S. DeLong of 2337 Eads avenue, to give him the partner "all the money in the register." DeLong handed out $15 from the cash drawer.

"Now give him the money in the drawer under the counter," ordered the first robber. DeLong said he handed over $25 additional. He was ordered then to go to the rear and lie face down on the floor.

The holdup was the seventh Kroger robbery since August, 1919. A holdup had been reported earlier in the day by Jesse Thomas, manager of a Kroger store at 3223 North Twenty-fifth street, where two men answering the same description as the two who visited the Cherokee street store ordered a can of beans and then held up Thomas and robbed him of $20 and the cash register of $25.

The Kroger company has kept no record of the prosecutions in connection with the holdups, but on May 14 an employee of the company said that up to that time four men had been indicted for first degree robbery, two of whom had been acquitted. Since that time four others have been indicted, two being charged with first degree robbery and two with attempted robbery.

Indictments were reported by the grand jury Wednesday, charging Ray Renard with first degree robbery and Forest Fuqua and Edward Donahue with attempted robbery.

Four Men Held Up by Highwaymen.
Marcus Bass, 1821 Division street, was held up by two men near the garage in the rear of his home at 8 p. m. and robbed of $10.

Andrew Pew, 3734 Westminster place, was held up by three negroes on Leffingwell avenue near Washington avenue at 9 p. m. and robbed of $3 and his watch.

Thomas Jannopolis, 1302 Franklin avenue, fired three shots at a man whom he caught trying to empty the cash register in his restaurant at 9 p. m. He said the man previously had ordered a sandwich with "fresh bread," and when he went to the rear to get it the visitor started to rob the place. When Jannopolis started shooting the man jumped over the counter and escaped empty-handed.

Arthur Robinson of 3033 Pine street, a negro, reported he had been held up by two armed negroes in front of 2721 Pine street and robbed of $10 and a token. Five minutes later at 10:30 p. m. Eugene Jones, a negro, reported being held up by two negroes near his home and being robbed of $5 and a watch.

Mrs. Artie Goble of 2923 Easton avenue, was standing in front of 902 North Garrison avenue at 9:30 p. m. when a negro snatched her handbag containing only a door key, and ran away.

James O'Reilly of 3565 Russell avenue, reported he had been robbed by a pickpocket of his watch and fob.

EDUCATORS TO RETRACE PAUL'S MISSIONARY JOURNEYS

American Party, Including Clergymen and Others, on Tour, to Study Bible Lands.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, June 10.—Missionary journeys of Paul the Apostle will be retraced by a group of 25 educators, clergymen and others who will make a tour of exploration and study of Bible lands this summer under the leadership of Prof. Albert E. Bailey of the Boston University School of Religious Education.

The party, which will sail from New York tomorrow, will inspect the synagogue in Corinth which has recently been excavated by an American archaeological expedition headed by Dr. Ralph Cooley of Newton, and will visit also the site of Paul's famous speech to the Athenians at Mars' Hill. Other stops will be at Thessalonica, Smyrna, Ephesus, Tarsus and Antioch.

Accompanying Prof. Bailey will be the Rev. B. F. Martin of Marshalltown, Ia.; Bruce Baxter, professor of biblical literature at Union College, Alliance, O.; the Rev. John Baxter, Ohio; the Rev. F. A. Robinson of Toronto, Canada, evangelistic secretary of the Presbyterian Church of Canada; Miss Helen Lemoine, Miss Eva Hogg and Miss C. B. Gernert, Canadian evangelistic workers; Mrs. Margaret W. Eggleston, assistant professor of religion at Boston University; and Miss Lois Bailey, daughter of the expedition's leader, an instructor at Boston University.

Returning, the party will leave Naples for Havre, from which port they will sail for the United States on Aug. 23. At Naples Prof. Bailey will leave the party and continue around the world, studying and collecting specimens of religious art for the university. In Havre he will explore the Boro Bodur, Buddhist temple, said to contain the finest specimens of Buddhist art in existence.

After the list was formed, Mrs. Lemoine said she notified President Roosevelt of the Board of Education that the list was at his disposal, and upon receiving a request for the list she submitted it to the board.

The largest number of votes in the list, which was voted on by the committee of educators to submit names of persons fitted, in his opinion, for the superintendency, was No. 1, which was placed on the number of names to be recommended by each person, and most of the committee offered more than one name.

41 TEACHERS MENTIONED TO HEAD SCHOOLS HERE

Women Voters Get Suggestions
From 26 Educators on a Superintendent for St. Louis.

Names of 41 educators from various places in the United States, suggested for consideration for the position of Superintendent of Schools of St. Louis, have been submitted to the Board of Education by the League of Women Voters. The league obtained its list by a mail questionnaire, sent to 26 persons, most of them prominent in educational matters.

The only St. Louis member of the committee which furnished the list of names was John B. Edwards, lawyer and chairman of the Election Board. Three St. Louis educators were in the list of those suggested for the superintendency. These were Dr. E. George Payne, head of the Teachers' College, and Miss Lillie R. Ernst, assistant superintendent, who received three votes each, and Prof. J. Leslie Purdom of the Teachers' College, who had one vote. The name of John J. Maddox, head of the superintendency, is not in the list, which was voted on by the committee last January.

No Limit Placed on Number.
Mrs. W. A. Layman, chairman of the educational committee of the League of Women Voters, who supervised the formation of the list, said today that it was formed by asking each of the 26 members of the committee of educators to submit names of persons fitted, in his opinion, for the superintendency. No limit was placed on the number of names to be recommended by each person, and most of the committee offered more than one name.

William Haggood of 5348 Old avenue, who has seven children living at home, has written to the Post-Dispatch asking for help in finding a new dwelling place. His difficulties are set forth in his letter, which is:

"What are we to do with our children?"

"Being compelled to vacate my home on account of it having been sold, I have been trying to find some place which could be rented, which seems impossible. The first looking across the face of the law, I have numerous occasions while knocking for a place is, 'How many children have you?' YOUNG TESTIFIES HE SHOT VUKOVIC IN SELF-DEFENSE

Former Federal Prohibition Agent Gives His Version of Killing During Liquor Raid at Madison.

DENIES MAN'S WIFE SAW THE SHOOTING

Taking of Testimony in Case Completed and Arguments Open in Federal Court at Springfield.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 10.—Former Federal Prohibition Agent Glenn Young, on trial in the Federal Court for killing Luko Vukovic at Madison, Ill., Nov. 6, 1920, testifying yesterday afternoon as the last witness in his own behalf, began with the declaration: "I shot and killed Luko Vukovic in defense of my own life."

He admitted that he entered Vukovic's home without a search warrant, but said that it was after he had found a still and mash in the home of Vukovic's brother-in-law, Mike Sever, next door, and after he had received information that Vukovic was associated with Sever. He found the front door unlocked, he said, and he and Policeman Walter Cowgill entered. He awoke Vukovic and told him he was an officer, and Vukovic accompanied him to the next room without protest. Young said he was searching the room with his flashlight when he turned the gleam on Vukovic and discovered him snatching a revolver at Young.

Young's Version of Shooting. Young said he drew his automatic pistol and fired six shots at Vukovic, who ran outside and returned with an iron bar and struck Cowgill across the face with it and rushed at Young with it. Young then fired two more shots and Vukovic fell.

He denied that Mrs. Vukovic was in the room and that she saw the shooting. He and Cowgill took her to Sever's home and on returning found a revolver by Vukovic's side, containing two empty shells and three unexploded shells. He turned this over to Deputy Coroner Lahey.

A revolver containing two empty and three unexploded shells was introduced. Young examined it and said it was not the one he had found. There was a hammer mark on one of the unexploded shells in the weapon that he found, he declared, and there was no such mark on any shell in the weapon introduced in evidence.

Testimony of Deputy Coroner. Lahey testified that he believed that the weapon was the one he had received from Young, but he could not swear positively to its identity, because he had not examined it carefully or marked it for identification. Mrs. Vukovic testified yesterday that the revolver did not belong to her husband.

The taking of testimony was completed at 6 p. m. Court convened at 9 a. m. today for the arguments. A 25-gallon keg taken from Vukovic's cellar and said to contain home-made liquor was offered as evidence in the case yesterday. In the evidence of Young yesterday it was shown that he used two weapons. Coroner Krill testified there were eight bullet wounds in Vukovic's body. Six were in the lower part of the body and two in the head.

The case is expected to go to the jury before night. The prosecution asked for conviction for murder, and a verdict sentencing Young to prison for term of from 14 years to life, declaring Young was acting in a private capacity and not as an officer.

MEN INDICTED IN PILLOW MURDER PLEAD NOT GUILTY

McAuliffe and Casey Probably Will Be Tried in Fall and Will Be Held Without Bond.

Thomas McAuliffe and Leo Casey, indicted for the murder of Ernie Pillow, negro bank messenger and witness against James Hogan on a robbery charge, were arraigned before Judge Hall today and pleaded not guilty. The date for their trial was not set, and the case probably will go over until fall, unless their lawyers demand an immediate trial. The men will be held without bond in the city jail until their trial.

The hearing in the contempt proceedings filed against the Police Board and Chief of Police, for holding McAuliffe in the police hold-over more than the 20 hours prescribed by law, and for failing to turn him over to the Sheriff immediately after a bench warrant was issued, was scheduled for this afternoon, in Judge Hartmann's court. Judge Hartmann yesterday overruled a motion filed by Bass & Bass, counsel for McAuliffe, that the reports of Police Captain Kirk and his men, on the inquiry which led to the arrest of McAuliffe and Casey, should be ordered produced in court. This motion was regarded by lawyers as a "fishing expedition," the chief purpose of which was to get the names of the witnesses against McAuliffe and Casey.

Uncle Sam to Get Plum in the Big Prize Fight

Income Tax on Dempsey's $300,000 Will Be $161,270 and Carpenter's Toll $93,334.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Uncle Sam never drew on a boxing glove in his life, but he'll make more money than Jack Dempsey, Georges Carpentier or Tex Rickard on July 2.

Figures which will doubtless bring sleepless nights to Dempsey's manager, Jack Kearns, and cause Francois Descamps, manager of Carpentier, more worry than a newspaper photographer, were quoted yesterday by internal revenue officials.

Dempsey's income tax for $300,000, approximately what he will receive for the battle, will amount to $161,270. Carpenter's toll, when exemptions for his wife and child are subtracted, will total a modest $93,334.

That makes the score on the division of the purse read: United States Government, $254,604; boxers, $245,395.

Mr. Average American Citizen, according to the revenue officials, pays a tax on an annual income between $5000 and $6000.

Promoter Tex Rickard, whose profits may be $100,000, will be taxed an amount which will bring the total Government revenue from the revenue of considerably more than a half million dollars, the richest sporting plug in history.

The marked difference between the taxes of the boxers is due to the surtax on the difference between $300,000 and $200,000. Dempsey, however, possesses an advantage in that he will have an entire year in which to pay, in quarterly installments, the first payment, due March 15, 1922. Carpenter, before he sails, must pay every dollar. The parting promise to be sad, financially, when the Frenchman and his manager bid good-by to the Goddess of Liberty.

Government profits on the bout also include the 10 per cent amusement tax exacted by Federal authorities, which will amount to approximately $100,000. The State of New Jersey will exact a like sum.

Comptroller Makes Good Promise Made When Three Were Dropped for Lack of City Funds.

Comptroller Nolte has sent his check for $250 to the St. Louis Tuberculosis Society in accordance with his promise to assist the society in paying the salaries of three municipal nurses for a year, amounting to $3600. He found it necessary to drop three nurses from the city payroll on June 1 because of the deficit in city funds, but in doing so promised the personal contribution to the society, which agreed to try to raise funds to maintain the nurses in their work.

"I am in accord with the work being done by your society," Nolte wrote in a letter accompanying his check, "and to assure you the step taken in cutting down requests for salaries was, owing to the condition of the city's finances, a necessary one, and also similar to the rule applied to all other departments in making up the 1921-22 budget. You can readily understand that our expenditures must be made as nearly as possible to conform to the city's revenues, and in the apportionment to departments we can only go as far as the revenue will permit."

COHAN ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT AS THEATRICAL PRODUCER

Calls in Road Companies, 1400 Actors Affected, Difference With Equity Association Given as Reason.

NEW YORK, June 10.—George M. Cohan yesterday announced his retirement as a theatrical producer. He has called in all his road companies, he said, and would not start any other in the fall. Fourteen hundred actors will be affected, he added, by this decision.

Differences with the actors' Equity Association, which has ordered the effect on Sept. 1 the so-called equity shop, whereby members of the organization are not permitted to play in casts with non-equity members, was given as the reason for his withdrawal.

TRUCK AND $4500 IN STOLEN CLOTH FOUND

Police Sergeant Comes Upon Vehicle Soon After It Is Driven From Sponging Plant.

Herbert Striker, chauffeur for the Manhattan Sponging Co., 804 North 18th street, after loading 29 bolts of cloth, valued by the firm at $4500, on a truck in the rear of the establishment about 9 o'clock this morning, went inside to obtain directions and while he was gone the truck was driven away.

A report of the robbery and description of the truck and goods were flashed over the district. Sgt. Anthony Andreveno received the report at Fourteenth and Biddle streets. A little later he was passing near a garage owned by Jack Niemann, a disqualified professional bondsman, in the rear of 1417 North Fourteenth street, when a young man came out, on seeing the Sergeant, tried to get away. Andreveno seized him and in the garage found the truck with the goods piled on the floor beside it.

Two other young men were there. One ran. The Sergeant snapped his revolver, but the cartridge was not discharged and the young man got away.

The two who were arrested said they were Harry Landis, 21 years old, a chauffeur, 3233 Franklin avenue, and George Davis, 30, a salesman, 3520 Washington boulevard.

Patrolman William Newman, who observed the truck being driven past Fourteenth street and Franklin avenue at 9:15 a. m., later identified Landis as the driver of the truck and Davis as a passenger.

Davis said that he had been talking with Niemann in front of the Niemann home, and in leaving, had taken a short cut through the garage. He denied knowledge of the robbery. Niemann was arrested at his pool room at 715 North Sixth street.

The cloth on the truck had been sponged by the Manhattan company for various tailors and was to have been delivered. It was said that the goods were insured.

LAWYER HIT ON HEAD IN FIGHT IN COURT OVER DIVORCE CASE

A. M. Frumberg and Morris Tucker, opposing lawyers in a divorce suit, had an altercation today during which one blow was struck in Circuit Judge Hogan's court.

Tucker was representing Henry Kohli, a grocer, whose wife, Hannah, has a suit for divorce pending. The matter under consideration was a motion by Frumberg for an allowance from Kohli to meet the expenses of taking depositions in New York. Tucker opposed the motion.

According to court attaches, Tucker, addressing Judge Hogan, said: "There is no necessity for these depositions. The attorney for the defendant took depositions in St. Louis and advertised this case on the front page of a newspaper like there was something spectacular in it, when it is only an ordinary case."

"You are a contemptible liar," Frumberg shouted.

Tucker, witnesses said, struck Frumberg on the forehead. A Deputy Sheriff at once intervened. Judge Hogan ordered Frumberg to apologize. Frumberg offered his apology to the Court, and the affair ended.

The pelts of 2103 blue foxes, 1661 white foxes and 258 polar bears were sold at auction. The pelts of the blue foxes averaged about 30 per cent higher price than last year, while the white foxes were 20 per cent lower and the bears' skins were 50 per cent lower.

A number of skins were purchased for America through Danish and German middlemen.

MAJOR'S PROMOTION HELD UP THIRD TIME

Senator Capper Again Balks Action on Peck, Complained of by 35th Division Men.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, June 10.—The influence of the veterans of the Thirty-fifth Division in the World War (the Missouri-Kansas National Guard), exerted through Senator Capper of Kansas, this afternoon for the third time balked Maj. G. Peck of promotion to Lieutenant-Colonel.

Before the Military Affairs Committee of the Senate, of which he is a member, Capper repeated the charge that Peck, while an inspector on the general staff in France, made a slighting report on the physical appearance of the division as it came out of the Argonne fighting. Capper also read an affidavit from Robert H. Cole of Joplin, who was a Sergeant in the 129th Machine Gun Battalion, relating an incident in which Cole figured with Private Rpy Hatfield of the same company.

Story of Two Soldiers. Having been gassed in the Argonne, the affidavit said, the two soldiers, at the orders of their Captain, were riding to the rear on a wagon containing also the bed rolls of some officers. Peck came by in his limousine, continued the statement, and the two soldiers and ordered them off the wagon. They got off and Peck rode on.

Being in doubt whether to reject the nomination of Peck outright or to pass it over, the committee decided to postpone consideration of his name till the next meeting. Senator Spencer, who was not at today's meeting, takes the same position. On the two previous occasions, when the name came up, Spencer was instrumental, with Capper, in getting it held up.

Capper said after the meeting that he intended to write to President Harding and ask him to withdraw the nomination and not send it to the Senate again during his administration.

SO MANY FLIES SWATTED CLUB CAN'T PAY BOUNTIES

Pana (Ill.) Women's Organization Says "It's Too Expensive" When Youngsters Become Active.

By the Associated Press. PANA, Ill., June 10.—Facing depletion of their treasury through the unexpected popularity of their swat-the-fly campaign, members of the Pana Women's Club yesterday announced the club could no longer pay bounties.

On May 24 all school children were offered 10 cents for every 100 flies executed within the city limits. Soon the stations where bounties were paid became the busiest places in Pana.

A total of 256,000 dead flies were presented for bounties for which $222.05 was paid. Five thousand flies were presented by youngsters who refused the bounties, declaring they had had fun enough already in catching them.

The campaign may go on, it is announced, but not with bounties. "It's too expensive," club members said.

last Saturday in Old St. Louis Cemetery, Mehlville. Walter J. Hatfield, son of Henry Hatfield, 2323 South Compton avenue, was buried last Saturday in National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, members of the American Legion Post, named for him, participating. Fred R. Creswell was buried in Memorial Park Cemetery, June 2.

Bender's body was sent directly to Jefferson Barracks and no record concerning him was available on its arrival. He was the husband of Mrs. Atanza Bender and lived on the Sappington Barracks road, near Mehlville. He was a member of F. Hatfield, 330th Artillery, and was killed in action Oct. 19, 1918. Creswell, who was the husband of Mrs. Mabel Creswell, belonged to G Company, 350th Infantry.

Another body expected here soon is that of Gordon Lesley, H Company, 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, brother of Mrs. Oliver G. Buckman, Overland Park. His mother, Mrs. Nettie E. Lesley of Kansas City, Mo., is at her daughter's home awaiting the arrival of the body. Burial is to be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

BLOOD INFUSION AIDS BOHLEN

Following a blood transfusion operation at the city hospital surgeons there today reported a great improvement in the condition of Patrolman John Bohlen, 45 years old, of the North Market street district, who was wounded in the abdomen with a shotgun Wednesday night by Richard P. Muller, at 1431 Buellman street.

Patrolman R. P. Ferguson, 29 years old, of the North Market street district, furnished a pint and a half of his blood in the effort to save Bohlen's life. The operation weakened Ferguson, but after a half-hour rest at the hospital he was able to go to his home.

PARDON SOUGHT FOR CLAYTON EMBEZZLER

Attorney to Appear Before Board in Behalf of B. C. Stevens, Serving 3 Years.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, June 10.—Efforts are being made by Benjamin A. Wood, an attorney, to obtain the release from the Missouri penitentiary of Beverly C. Stevens of Clayton, convicted in St. Louis of embezzlement in real estate transactions, and sentenced to serve three years which will expire under the three-fourths rule and merit system, Dec. 26 next.

Wood has informed the State Prison Board that he will appear at its meeting here next Monday to ask for the release of Stevens, who is 34 years old, and who is now serving his second term, the first, for forgery, having been completed Nov. 19, 1918.

ENGLISH MINERS TO TAKE VOTE

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 15.—The conference of the coal miners' delegates held here today decided that a bal-

The coal mine strike, tying up virtually the entire industry, has been in progress since April 1.

TOLEDO MAN'S OWN BULLET ENDED LIFE

Coroner's Decision in Case of Extremist Who Killed Two Policemen.

By the Associated Press.
TOLEDO, O., June 15.—James Kelley, alleged "extremist," yesterday made good his threat to "die but not alone," if he failed to get the living he claimed the world owed him, according to the police.
After killing two members of the force of 200 policemen who attempted to take him from a barricaded attic, Kelley sent a bullet through his heart when capture appeared imminent. County Coroner Hensler and Police Chief Herbert declared last night after an examination of Kelley's body. Bullets from machine guns used by the police resurged in storming the attic struck Kelley in the leg, arm, and abdomen, the Coroner found, but the bullet which ended the battle came from a weapon in Kelley's own hand, Dr. Hensler stated.
Policemen Harry Dowell and Harold Mosburger were killed before Kelley shot himself.
According to the police, Kelley had been known for some years as an extremist, and had been preaching anarchy for several months. Two weeks ago, when threatened with eviction from his boarding house for failure to pay his bill, he boasted to his landlady, Mrs. Nellie Key, that "the world owed him a living and that if he couldn't get it, he would die, but not alone."
The police, explaining the events leading up to the fight, said that Mrs. Key yesterday morning asked Kelley to pay his bill, which amounted to $75. When he refused, she called the police.

Two detectives were sent to make the arrest. They were met by gun fire. Police reserves with machine guns then were sent to the scene, and the fight followed.

FIVE INJURED WHEN TWO CARS JUMP TRACKS

Foot of One Cut Off in Runaway at Alton—Three Children Hurt by Debris.

Five persons were injured when two work cars of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway ran away on State street, Alton, and after racing four blocks down a steep grade left the tracks and crashed into two buildings at 5 p. m. yesterday.

The injured are: William Loggess, right foot cut off; Thomas Davis, scalp wounds and possible fracture of the skull; Arthur Kittrell, lacerations of arms and body; John Wolter, 10 years old, bruises of body and possible internal injuries; Evelyn Newman, 10 years old, cut on right cheek. The three men are employees of the company. The children were injured by debris.

The cars were coupled together when they got beyond control. At Fourth and State streets the leading car left the track, breaking loose from the other, and crashed into the public library building. Loggess, Davis and Kittrell jumped. Davis and Kittrell cleared the track. Loggess' foot was severed.

The second car continued to Third street, where it left the track and plunged against Frank Tickard's harness shop. The boy was covered by debris and was not rescued for 20 minutes. The girl was struck by a brick. The boy's condition was greatly improved today. Davis, however, has remained unconscious and his condition is considered serious.

WASHINGTON U. GIRL GRADUATE JOINS MUNICIPAL OPERA CHORUS

Miss Mae Penelope Green, After Receiving Degree, Goes to Rehearsal—Later Sings in Choir.

Miss Mae Penelope Green, who was graduated from Washington University yesterday morning with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, went from the exercises in her white graduation dress to rehearsals of the municipal opera chorus at Jefferson Memorial and was greeted with a round of applause. Last night she sang and danced in the rain as a member of the chorus in "The Chocolate Soldier."

Miss Green played Orlando and Malvolio, respectively, in the performances of "As You Like It" and "Twelfth Night," given by girls of the English department of Washington University at the municipal theater and on Liggett terrace.

HOME FOR THREE SISTERS IN ONE FAMILY IS SOUGHT

Mary 2, Ruth, 4, and Dorothy, 6, in Charge of Aid Society, May Be Adopted After Two Years.

Three little sisters, Mary, Ruth and Dorothy, need a home, and the St. Louis Children's Aid Society, which has had charge of them for some time, announced today that they were ready for adoption in some kind family. Mary is 2 years old, Ruth 4 and Dorothy 6, and they are devoted to one another, so they must be placed in one family, where they may grow up together. They are healthy, bright and attractive. All applicants for the little girls will be carefully investigated, and no family will be considered unless it is known that the children will receive loving care and be made real members of the family. They will be placed on trial and if it is found they are happy and conditions are satisfactory at the end of two years, they can be legally adopted. Anyone interested in the children is asked to call on Miss Helen Miller, placement secretary, at the new headquarters of the Children's Aid Society, Vaniel Building, Olive street and Vandeventer avenue. Miss Miller also is seeking temporary homes for babies, whose board will be paid and clothing supplied by the aid society.

ROBERTS COKE PRICE FIXED AT $8.50 A TON

Granite City Product Is 75 Cents Lower Than Laclede Price.

According to announced intention, the St. Louis Coke and Chemical Co., which operates 80 coke ovens and one blast furnace in Granite City, today began selling its coke for household consumption in St. Louis.

A price of $8.50 a ton guaranteed against reduction to Oct. 1, 1934, is quoted in newspaper advertisements appearing today. The cheapest coke heretofore sold in this market was even that of the Laclede Gas Light Co., which has been selling its gas coke at $9.25 per ton and its by-product coke, a harder, slower burning coke, at $10. The product of the Granite City plant is a by-product coke and is known as "Roberts by-product coke, after the designer of the oven in which it is made, Arthur Roberts of Chicago.

The price quoted is for sidewalk or cellar-bin delivery in full truck loads containing three or four tons. The coke is advertised as a smokeless fuel, more economical than soft coal. Current prices on soft coal in St. Louis are $5.50, $6.25 and $7.50, according to grade. One of the benefits asserted for St. Louis from the establishment of the coke plant in Granite City, made at the time the project was announced, was that it would offer coke in quantity in this market at a price slightly higher than soft coal, thus tending to combat the smoke evil.

$2266 FOUND IN POCKETS OF COAL MINER ARRESTED HERE

Prisoner Searched After He Had Offered Policeman $50 Not to Lock Him Up.

Louis Pavlich, 36 years old, who says he is a coal miner of Raton, N. M., is held for investigation, following his offer of money to a policeman at Sixth and Market streets at 12:15 a. m. today, and the subsequent discovery that he was carrying a large amount of currency.

Patrolman Friede stopped Pavlich to question him. Pavlich said he had a lung trouble which would make it unpleasant for him to spend a night in a police cell, and, according to the policeman, said it would be worth $50 to let him go, and slipped a $20 bill into the policeman's hand as part payment.

At Central District Station Pavlich was searched and $2266 in bills and gold were found on him. Of this money $1550 in bills was in a sealed envelope. He said he had earned and saved the money.

MRS. DONNELLY GETS A DIVORCE AND AWARD OF $1 IN ALIMONY

Mrs. Leola Meyer Donnelly, 19 years old, obtained a divorce today in Judge Farley's Court from Robert Donnelly, 21, son of the late Brigadier-General Arthur B. Donnelly.

ADVERTISEMENT.COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Multisified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisified coconut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

Be sure your druggist gives you Multisified.

They were married Feb. 14, last, and separated April 5, according to the wife's petition, which was filed May 26. She is a daughter of Adolph C. Meyer of 3854 Flora boulevard, and employee of the Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Donnelly is a West Point graduate of last year, and served as a First Lieutenant of coast artillery until last winter, when he resigned his commission and went into the life insurance business. His father was killed in an automobile accident nearly two years ago, and his mother last winter married Charles A. Marquis.

In her petition, Mrs. Donnelly said that her husband quarreled with her continually, criticized her actions, ridiculed her family and her relatives, and objected to her visiting them, even when he was away, and that he used violent and abusive language toward her.

Donnelly did not contest the suit, and entered his appearance soon after it was filed. An award of $1 alimony in gross was made.

POLICEMAN SENT TO ARKANSAS FOR FARMER RETURNS ALONE

Requisition for Man Accused of Fraud in Auto Deal May Be Honored Later.

Policeman Charles Ostrander, assigned to the Circuit Attorney's office, returned yesterday from Little Rock, Ark., where he went with requisition papers for Luke H. Pryor of West Point, Ark., charged in an indictment here with obtaining $55-000 under false pretenses. He did not bring Pryor back because Gov.
McRae of Arkansas was not disposed to honor the requisition at this time.

The Governor told Ostrander that if the requisition was pressed at this time he would have to refuse it because of the pendency of certain matters in a civil action in the Federal Court there, but that after these were disposed of his attitude might be different.

Mr. Mason Roberts, president and treasurer of the American Beverage Co., St. Louis, charges that Pryor traded him the American Automobile & Supply Co. for a $15,000 equity in a farm and $40,000 notes on the representation that it was paying profits of $3000 a month, but that he found it virtually bankrupt.

NAT GOLDSTEIN IN WASHINGTON
TALKS ABOUT POSTMASTER'S JOB

Points Out It Is Not Yet Vacant and "Will Cross Bridge When He Comes to It."

Special to the Post-Dispatch. June 10.—Nat
Goldstein, clerk of the Circuit Court of St. Louis, put in this morning calling on members of the Republican delegation in Congress. He said his visit to the Capitol was purely social, and not connected with any ambition to become Postmaster of St. Louis.

"I am not a candidate for the position," said Goldstein, "but to say in advance that I would decline a post of honor which has not been offered me, and which is not yet vacant, would be foolish. I will cross that bridge when I come to it."

Goldstein's name, as previously reported, is among those which have been put up to Senator Spencer in connection with the postmastership.

Spencer said that he was not committed to the support of anybody for the job. The impression prevails here among both Republicans and Democrats, that Postmaster Selph, as a matter of courtesy on the part of the administration toward Senator Good, will be allowed to serve out his term, which will not expire till next January.

10c a Package for The Best Epsom Salt

You pay no fancy price for the purity and superior strength of Allan's Epsom Salt. The Sanitary Sealed Package costs only 10c. It brings you the very best Epsom Salt.

Your physician insists on purity in the medicine you take. Allan's is pure. Take it with half a fresh lemon squeezed into a glass of water, and a little sugar added. Then you know the dose is pure. The fruit acid—if it is fresh and pure—helps Allan's Epsom Salt to act quickly and makes it tasteless.

It's easy to say "Allan's" and it means a lot for its purity. Sold wherever medicine is sold. 10c the package.

BECKER NAMED CHIEF ENGINEER OF BUILDING DEPARTMENT

McKelvey Appoints Former Washington U. Professor to Succeed His Son at $3960 a Year.

Director of Public Safety McKelvey today announced the appointment of William C. E. Becker of 4240A Atholene avenue as Chief Engineer of the building department at $3960 a year, to succeed his son, James G. McKelvey, who has resigned, effective July 1, to enter a construction firm. Becker, a former professor of civil engineering at Washington University and now a structural engineer for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, out-ranked young McKelvey in an Efficiency Board test for the position nearly a year ago.

Director McKelvey, however, took advantage of his privilege of choosing from the three highest on the examination list and appointed his son, who had served for some time without examination.

Director McKelvey also announced the appointment of Otto Krieg, Assistant Building Commissioner, to succeed Edward J. Gieseler as Chief Deputy Building Commissioner. Krieg has been an architect in the department for nine years. The promotion increases his salary from $2880 to $2750 a year. Gieseler was dismissed by the Director after incurring the latter's displeasure by running for Alderman in the Twenty-third Ward, known as "McKelvey's ward."

Sues for $12,500 Legal Fee.

Walter A. Hays, an attorney, yesterday filed suit for a fee of $12,500 for legal service rendered to the International Aerial Navigation Co., 1034 North Vandeventer avenue. The company and Thomas H. Keppel, president; Robert F. and Jessie Keppel are named as defendants. Hays says the defendants agreed to pay him $2500 cash and $10,000 worth of stock in the corporation, but failed to keep their agreement.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Wherefore the Gun.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
A news item tells of a person in Chicago who favors the suppression of the manufacture and sale of revolvers and offers a prize of $1000 for one good reason why this industry should not be suppressed.

There are a number of good reasons that can be given, and as I want that money I submit the best of them, which I ask you to publish for the benefit of the inquirer. When I get the $1000 I mean to spend it on propaganda against insane legislation of the kind suggested. Noncriminal citizens need revolvers to protect their property, their homes, their families and their lives against criminal depredation. A man is entitled to protect these things with the best weapon he can get. There is none better than the pistol, and it is a great pity that the law-abiding peace-loving people of this country are not better trained and prepared to use it.

The state is supposed to prevent the operations of the criminal classes, against whom such defense is necessary, but the state is a hard person to get in a hurry, and most competent murderers get through their work and away before the state can come into action. A revolver in the hands of the criminal's prospective victim, goes a long way to relieve the state of its onerous obligation of preserving the peace.

Laws to keep weapons out of the hands of criminals would be fine, if they were practical, which they are not. If such legislation could be framed and passed, it would doubtless be challenged as class legislation, undemocratic, un-American, and solemnly declared unconstitutional.

EDWARD V. PAFIN.

Don't Want Economy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
St. Louis can profit hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly and reduce crime and causes of crime and its smoke nuisance at the same time by taking the advice of Detroit's police superintendent and having nonpartisan elections, such as some of our citizens have been advocating for years. The majority of our business men, however, opposing the returns of the last municipal election, prefer to have their money squandered in the good old way.

WILLIAM HENRY GRUEN.

The Morals of the Meramec.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Since Prosecuting Attorney Mueller is cleaning up St. Louis County, let him work a little ahead of the game and check up on the pretense and to improve the moral tone of the Meramec River. It is very easily possible that those petty officials who have been looking at every motorist as their meal ticket will turn to the Meramec River for similar purposes, as it is an unexploited field. I have spent at least 10 years on the Meramec and have failed to see anything that would be "contra bonos mores." To the contrary, the morals of the Meramec River patrons are superior to those fashionable wards that furnish at least 95 percent of all our matrimonial scandals. High school teachers with 1000 and more pupils come to Meramec and have nothing but praise to offer. The classes that patronize the Meramec belong mostly to the type that believes in "Mens sana in corpore sano" and have as yet had no time to befall the moral critics that lead the unhealthy and bad habit forming life of "Ottum cum dignitate." I have a fair idea that if our critics would appear in bathing costumes and swim down the Meramec, they would find "Mens sana in corpore sano" and vacate the neighborhood.

HONI SOIT.

Sims and Harvey.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Consistency is certainly no jewel with the Harding's administration. Rear Admiral Sims makes a stirring statement about Irishmen in consular service, and the Navy Denby cables him to find out if the Rear Admiral is correctly quoted, evidently for the purpose of applying disciplinary action.

But Ambassador Harvey slurs the whole American people and not to this blessed hour has Secretary of State Hughes cabled him to find out if the Ambassador is correctly quoted.

To be sure, the Rear Admiral talked out of turn and had no business insulting "some Americans," but neither did Ambassador Harvey have any business to insult all Americans. Why clamp the lid down on the old salt, but let the old pickle go soot free? That's the point. Where's the consistency, but who said consistency was ever a Harding virtue?

BERNARD GRUNSTEIN.

Traffic.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
An effort is being made by our city authorities to prevent further congestion of traffic in already congested areas. I offer this suggestion to cover one of the worst of such areas:

Put the Grand avenue division of the United Railways in a subway from a point just south of North Market street to a point just north of the Grand avenue bridge, emerging just under the hill.

Do this piece of work while hotels are being built at Grand and Lindell and the city establishes the Delmar-Morgan cut-off, establishing stations at these two points in connection therewith.

FRANK BOGHER, M. D.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

The statement of Victor J. Miller, President of the Police Board, that "the day of the political pull is past," so far as the Board of Police Commissioners is concerned, is good news. The people will heartily approve the elimination of the political pull, not only the appointment and promotion of police officers, but in the protection of criminals.

The elimination of personal favoritism in appointments and promotions and in the handling of criminals is a corollary to the elimination of the political pull. With political pulls and personal favoritism out of the Police Department, a long step has been made towards police efficiency and the enforcement of law against criminals.

Mr. Miller's contention that all laws in the statute books of the city and State ought equally to be obeyed and enforced is fine in theory, but wholly impractical and impossible. All the laws and ordinances, he says, ought to be enforced, and if bad the people ought to have them repealed. That is good in theory. In practice all laws and ordinances cannot be enforced equally. All of them cannot be obeyed. There is a multitude of laws and ordinances which mean nothing in respect to public safety, public order and public decency. They are unprincipled and foolish, and while they ought to be repealed, they cannot be enforced and merely cumber the statute books.

Law, fundamentally, is the expression of public opinion and it is a maxim of law that statutes which are not in harmony with public opinion and cannot be enforced are not laws. As Lord Parker aptly stated it, where violations of a law are numerous and general, it is not a law. It is mere waste of public money and law-enforcement forces and energy to try to enforce such laws. The people ignore them, regardless of repeal.

There is a distinction between laws prohibiting crime and touching public safety and decency and those regulating private morals and personal conduct in matters not touching the invasion of rights or menaces to life and property and public safety. Sound public sentiment approves good individual morals, but laws cannot control private morals or the police enforce laws designed to control either the religion or the morals of individuals nor any personal act not touching crime or public rights and public safety. The State tries, but fails, with vast waste of money and labor and injury to law and its enforcement.

There never was a more conscientious citizen or statesman with higher ideals than Charles Sumner, but he declared in the United States Senate that although the fugitive slave law had been declared constitutional, he would never obey nor help to enforce it, or any law which denied his conscience or struck at right. The law of right is the only law.

The police, under Mr. Miller's direction, violated fundamental law vitally affecting the rights of citizens when they made raids and arrests without warrant and searched and arrested innocent persons without warrant. He violates fundamental laws and statute laws and the fundamental rights of citizens when he holds accused persons incommunicado or denies persons accused of the worst crimes the right of counsel and communication and bail. Violations of fundamental laws and rights by the law enforcement authorities, no matter what the excuse of expediency or good purpose, strike at the very structure of justice and law, which is designed for the protection of all men from injustice, injury and the invasion of rights.

These police tyrannies and abuses bring law into contempt and are a reproach to law enforcement. All agree that all laws touching crime against life and property, all laws and regulations touching public safety and public decency, all laws protecting the rights and legitimate activities of citizens, should be enforced. There is entire harmony between the public and the law officers in the enforcement of these laws. No police energy or public money is wasted in enforcing such laws and in punishing their violators. There is more credit for the authorities and more benefit for the community in arresting and punishing one thief, one murderer, one gunman, one lawless bandit, than in arresting a host of card players and home brewers and liquor drinkers. When the perpetrators of the 70 Kroger robberies are brought into court, the public will view the activities of the police regulating the private life and morals of citizens with better grace.

BROTHER JOHN'S HUNCH.

"I understood my brother was a candidate for the Senate," said John S. Newberry to the Senate Committee that seems determined to go to the bottom of that Michigan election if it takes forever, "and because of my love and affection for him I told Fred Smith I wanted to finance his campaign."

At this point Fred Smith fades from the picture, though he may reappear in another reel, and the public gaze is riveted on Brother John, and rather skeptically, too. But surely a word may be said for Brother John. It may be asserted, without reservation, we think, that John's construction of the situation was entirely warranted.

Certainly there were many rumors at the time that Brother Truman was a candidate for the Senate. Some of the most responsible business men in Detroit were stating it as a fact that Truman's hat was in the ring. Some of those men, it may fairly be assumed, even called the matter to John's attention. Many persons found themselves employed at rattling good wages, as a Ford workman might put it, to spread the impression that Commodore Newberry desired to be a Senator. Here and there a newspaper whispered the same identical thing from an obscure corner of its first page under a confidential scare head. Even the taciturn billboards implied in their Delphic way that the gallant sailor was ready to be come a solon. And, finally, the tale was told alone: all the dunes and dunes of Michigan, told in silver periods and golden staves and long-green dithyrambs, that the Admiral, yielding to popular clamor, would forsake the Seven Seas for the calm, sedate sanctuary of statesmanship.

Under such rolling, tumbling, swirling circumstances, it seems to us that Brother John was justified in deducing that Brother Truman wanted to be a Senator. That his hunch was right is written forever in the statutes and the checkbooks.

ARMAMENT'S ENDLESS CHAIN.

In his address to the graduating class of New York University, Secretary Weeks said it would be the height of folly for the United States to disarm first and we must be prepared to defend our rights until all nations agree to scrap their armaments.

"I do not love war. I abhor it," said the Secretary. "I do not anticipate war, but there are active and feverish military preparations among those with whom we might possibly come in contact."

The statesmen of Japan say they abhor war and do not anticipate it, but there are huge military preparations by others with whom Japan might come in contact. The statesmen of Great Britain say the same thing.

All the heads of the governments of the leading nations, which are building great armaments, profess to abhor war, to anticipate no war and to contemplate no aggression against any other nation. All excuse their war preparations on account of the war preparations of others.

Thus the endless chain of competitive armaments is forged. The other fellow is making war preparations; therefore, we must make war preparations. It is a useless waste of money, because none of us can afford to want to go to war and the competition is ruining all of us and assures another war, but we must keep up the ruinous and menacing policy because the other fellow, who hates it as we do, keeps it up.

Is there any sincerity or sanity in the statesmanship of the civilized world? If the statesmen are sincere in saying they all want to quit arming, then it is insanity not to get together and agree to disarm. If, on the other hand, they are insincere and want to arm for war they are mad.

The obvious thing to do is to come together in a conference, since we reject the League, and agree to a reduction of armaments. President Harding can break the endless chain with a word. By calling Britain and Japan into a conference he can get a naval holiday, which is the first step. The next is fixing up the League to guarantee peace.

A CONTRAST OF CASES.

Since the Harvey and Sims indiscretions in London have been compared, it becomes pertinent to make further comparisons, first as to the public significance of the respective expressions, and, second, as to the results produced in Washington.

Admiral Sims did not speak, or claim to speak, officially for the American nation or its Government. What he said was but the personal opinion of one man. It could neither influence the fate of Ireland nor affect America's relations abroad.

When Ambassador Harvey delivered his belittlement of the American motives in entering the war and his belittlement of the League of Nations, however, he did speak as the accredited representative of the American Government. If America was misrepresented it was misrepresented officially. What Col. Harvey said, furthermore, was not only qualified but calculated to affect America's future relations with the world.

And what has been the effect in Washington of the two pronouncements? Col. Harvey laughed down with impunity the high aspirations of America in sending 2,000,000 of her young men into the fray against ruthless imperialism and leaving $0,000 of them dead on the field. And, with the venom of the bitter partisan that he is, he officially renounced, in the name of the great Republican majority, any further high aspirations the nation may have had and, doubtless, still has for a new world order that would climb for peace and democracy the triumph won in blood.

In Harvey's case the response from Washington was silence. In Sims' case there was a scurrying of senatorial feet to the White House, an indignation meeting of Senator, President and Secretary of the Navy and a vehement cablegram to Sims requesting confirmation of his reputed statements and conveying the inference of high official repudiation and wrath. In one case the peace of the world and America's crusading spirit in the war were attacked. In the other a man in the pay of the Government let off some personal opinions that were offensive to a large element of the American people and menacing to Republican prospects if the administration should stand for them. Is the comparative effect produced at Washington to be accepted as typical of the administration's appraisal of values?

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

NEW NORWEGIAN LABOR LAW.

From the Living Age.

LAST year a widespread strike in Norway resulted in new legislation for regulating industrial disputes. A bill has been adopted by both Houses of Parliament, applying to both private and Government establishments employing 50 workers or more, which gives the employee a right to have shop councils, and regulates the procedure by which such councils shall be elected, the term of office of their members, and their authority. Proprietors retain their present control over their works, but they are obliged to consult the shop councils before taking action relating to the following matters: 1. Important changes in the factory which involve changes in the methods of work. 2. Decisions affecting wages, standards, piece work schedules, hour of work, overtime, the arrangement of work, and in case of operations have to be curtailed, dismissals and similar matters. 3. Factory rules and their amendment. 4. Organization and administration of welfare departments for the employees, of hospital funds, savings funds, tenement houses, and the like.

THE COAL DEADLOCK.

From the New York Tribune.

IF The American Coal Journal is correctly informed, "there has been no appreciable demand for coal for several months, and as a result the mines are working only a day or two a week." The Geological Survey reports that since Jan. 1 only 115,558,000 tons of bituminous coal have been mined, against 153,552,000 tons during the same time last year. The public is headed toward a repetition of the conditions of last winter. Coal traders ascribe the alarming prospect to the failure of consumers to lay in stocks, the difficulty middlemen find in financing the filling of their yards, and to lack of transportation from the mines. The coal-consuming public is besought to come into the market and buy at what are called the present "reasonable" prices. The rub seems to lie in difference of opinion as to what constitutes "reasonable" in coal prices. We hear of $12 a ton being paid for anthracite, whose price tends to fluctuate with the price for bituminous. The heart of the household does not leap when informed of this figure and he does not buy. He has a feeling that coal prices are not sufficiently liquidated—that he will be able to do better later. If there is earnest desire to quicken the domestic buyer out of his lethargy and thus to break the complained-of deadlock, with the mines idle and coal hoies empty, why not advise the coal trade to exert itself to make coal cost less?

WALT WHITMAN.

Norman Foerster in North American Review.

BELATED voice of the romantic spirit of the early nineteenth century, Whitman spoke with impressive force and sanity to a generation and a country beginning to question the life and literature of that "hygeinical sick-chamber" Europe, and oppressed with the conventionalism and materialism of unheroic ante-bellum America. To the pusillanimity and valetudinarianism of that epoch, Leaves of Grass came like a tonic oceanic gale, sweeping away all manners of body and soul and inviting a large, free life in accordance with the dictates of the inner self. It was not chance that the first important admirers of the book were the men of Concord—Emerson, Thoreau, and Alcott. Emerson's famous letter to Mr. Walter Whitman, written a fortnight after the publication of the edition of 1855, is equally a tribute to Whitman's power and to Emerson's largeness. "I have great joy in it. I find incomparable things, said incomparably well, as they must be. I find the courage of treatment which so delights us, and which large perception only can inspire. I greet you at the beginning of a great career. . . . It has the best matter, namely, of fortifying and encouraging." Emerson was right, the book has all of these qualities, and the poet has entered upon a great career.

'NO SUCCESS FROM WORKING 8 HOURS'

Early Decision Expected on Request of 150 Roads for Reduction in Workers' Pay.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 10.—The second wage reduction hearing before the United States Railroad Labor Board, in which more than 150 railroads asked for wage cuts, ended in a rhetorical love feast yesterday, with representatives of both railroad and employees expressing a desire for peace and amity in the railroad industry.

"Let's pull the country out of the situation it faces today," urged F. W. Sargent, counsel for the Chicago & Northwestern, in a closing address for the carriers. "We're anxious to settle controversies for the benefit of all. We have faith in this board. It is an experiment, but I believe it is one of the greatest experiments ever undertaken by civilized government. So far as this road is concerned, it will obey every decision of the board, even if it takes us into the hands of the receiver."

Exchanges of Good Will.
Sargent pleaded for a more lenient stand on the eight-hour day, declaring that "no living man has ever made a success of life on eight hours a day. Unusual situations demand harder and longer work," he said, urging that both employer and employee work together to harmonize the railroad industry. Heads of the "Big Four" brotherhoods expressed their appreciation of the "spirit of co-operation" shown by Sargent and other rail representatives and the case was concluded with the exception of a dispute over the right of the Pullman Company to appear in the hearing. Chair-pat Barton announced that the board would sit today to consider the Pullman application further.

Argument Over Agreements.
A lengthy argument over application of the board's decision of April 14 regarding abrogation of the so-called national agreements, marked the morning session yesterday. The decision of April 14 terminates the agreements of 1915, the board's decision of last year that the agreements be continued. Some railroads, it was said, held that the agreements were abrogated, regardless of whether new agreements had been negotiated to replace them. The board was asked to make an interpretation of the decision and members of the board said later that they considered it optional with the railroads and the employees whether the agreements were abrogated or not. The decision they said, did not order the railroads to make new agreements, but left it to the two parties to continue the old rules or devise new agreements.

The wage hearing which ended yesterday occupied but four days, both sides mainly reiterating testimony offered in the hearing five months ago. A decision on the case expected soon.

CONSTABLE TO TEST WARRANT RULING IN AUTO VIOLATION

Order That Justices Cannot Issue Documents Has Out Foes of County Officials.

A test of the question whether St. Louis County Justices of the Peace shall issue warrants for alleged violators of automobile laws is to be made by Constable Julius Schenck. He said today that when makes his next automobile arrest will apply to the Circuit Court a mandamus order to compel a Justice to issue a warrant.

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller ruled against the issuance of warrants in these cases. The Justices and arresting officials are displeased because it curtails their fees. It has been getting 15 cents for issuing the warrant and 10 cents for the return. Constables $1 for serving it and $1 mileage in each case. If no warrants are issued, the fee will be 50 cents for a road book. Chief Deputy Sheriff L. L. says since the fees were curtailed, deputies have not been arresting motorists.

The board was asked to make an interpretation of the decision and members of the board said later that they considered it optional with the roads and their employees whether the agreements were abrogated or not. The decision, they said, did not order the rules abrogated, but left it to the two parties to continue the old rules or devise new agreements.

CONSTABLE TO TEST WARRANT RULING IN AUTO VIOLATIONS

Order That Justices Cannot Issue Documents Has Out Foes of County Officials.

A test of the question whether St. Louis County Justices of the Peace shall issue warrants for alleged violators of automobile laws is to be made by Constable Julius Schoenbeck. He said today that when he makes his next automobile arrest he will apply to the Circuit Court for a mandamus order to compel a Justice to issue a warrant.

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller has ruled against the issuance of warrants in these cases. The Justices and arresting officials are displeased because it curtails their fee. Justices have been getting $5 cents for issuing the warrant and Deputy Sheriffs and Constables $1 for serving it and $1 mileage in each case. If no warrants are issued, the only fee will be 50 cents for a road bond. Chief Deputy Sheriff Lill says that since the fees were curtailed the deputies have not been arresting auto violators.

Instances of Conspicuous Police Work Related by Chiefs Who Were Here This Week

Clerk in Oakland Was Convinced Case Reported as Suicide Was Murder and His Activities Obtained
Confession From a Wife.

Instances of conspicuous police work, related to Post-Dispatch reporters by delegates who attended the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, which closed last night, follow:

Unusual "Tip" Led to Arrest of Denver Payroll Robbers.

An unusual "tip" promptly followed, led to the rounding up of a gang of payroll robbers in Denver and Chief of Police H. R. Williams, who directed the inquiry from a swivel chair, related the interesting circumstances as follows:

"A series of three payroll robberies had been pulled off in the business section of Denver at weekly intervals, the climax being the theft of $23,000 from a bank messenger as he was conveying the money from one bank to another. Three men figured in each job and the descriptions furnished by the victims tallied, so that we knew the work was that of a single gang. But we had no idea who was doing it. The descriptions did not fit any of the known highwaymen whose records we had at Police Headquarters. Special squads of detectives worked day and night searching the hangouts of criminals, but failed to get any information.

Receives Telephone Message.

"About a week after the holdup of the bank messenger, which occurred April 23, we had a terrific storm in Denver. The night following the storm I received a telephone message from a man who refused to disclose his identity. He said that he had overheard a conversation regarding a woman who had purchased an expensive automobile and who had insisted, against the advice of the dealers, in driving the car in the storm. He said he thought that I might be interested. He was unable to give me further details.

"I directed members of the automobile squad to make inquiry and see if they could ascertain who had sold the automobile and the identity of the woman who made the purchase. The matter appeared to be a delicate one and I cautioned the detectives to use discretion, as there was nothing at that time to connect the woman with the operation of criminals.

Watched the Bungalow.

"I planted detectives in the vicinity of the home with instructions to watch the bungalow and note the movements of the occupants. Within a few days they had established the fact that two other men, supposed to be brothers of Coleman, who had been visiting Coleman, had departed the day after Mrs. Coleman had purchased the automobile and that the automobile was not in the Coleman garage and had been purchased. They also learned that a physician of questionable reputation had been making daily visits at the house and that Coleman had been shadowed, and after learning that he had mortgaged his home and had almost immediately lifted the mortgage and also had purchased a new automobile, I was able to convince him that he had some explanations to make.

"The result of my interview with the doctor was the arrest of Tom Coleman and his wife, whose first name was 'Mickie'." It developed that one of the robbers in holding up the bank messenger had accidentally shot himself in the foot, a fact that was not disclosed at the time of the robbery. The doctor had been treating Coleman for the bullet wound and had incidentally been helping to get some of the stolen money changed into bills of small denomination. That was the reason he had visited his home and shortly after had taken up the mortgage.

"Brothers" Held Up Men.

"Coleman's 'brothers' turned out to be Art Willis and Joe Chere. We landed Willis in Frisco a week after Coleman's arrest and as he had pulled off several additional stickups, Chere was caught in Erie, Pa., after a revolver fight in which he wounded a detective and was himself wounded.

"Mickie turned State's evidence. She confessed that she had purchased the automobile and had driven it in a storm in order that Chere and Willis could make their get-away from Denver. We recovered $13,000 of the money stolen from the bank messenger and sent Coleman, Willis and Chere to the penitentiary."

Saw Robbers Appear in Mirror as Alarm Was Being Telephoned

CHIEF OF POLICE G. O. BUSH of Tuxedo Park, a residence colony 30 miles out of New York City on the State highway between New York and Buffalo, is known as the "Shotgun Sheriff," and has a large French mirror on the wall above his desk which reflects the highway. He tells why he would not part with the mirror:

"One day last January I was sitting at my desk when the Chief of Police of Paterson, N. J., telephoned that four men in an automobile had escaped after holding up a hotel clerk in Paterson and stealing diamonds, cash and Liberty Bonds amounting to about $30,000. He was describing the automobile, which, he said, had nickel-trimmed radiator and fenders, when, through the mirror, I saw an automobile of that character coming down the highway.

"I ran from the telephone, leaving the Chief of Paterson still sitting at his desk, and ran into the highway in time to head off the car. The chauffeur stopped when I commanded him and four men, all armed, stepped from the car when they saw I had them covered and surrendered. The loot was in the car.

"The prisoners turned out to be Western men with penitentiary records. One was an escaped convict. They were taken to Paterson and last April were convicted. One was given a life sentence as an habitual criminal."

Clerk Showed "Suicide" Was a Murder and Won Acquittal

OCCASIONALLY, in the work of ferreting out crime, a police clerk emerges from the daily routine and distinguishes himself, as in the following instance related by Chief of Police Fenton G. Thompson of Oakland, Cal.:

"On the morning of Oct. 5 last," said Thompson, "a patrolman brought in a report of a 'suicide.' George Clark, a painter, had been found dead in bed at his home with a bullet wound in the right temple. His revolver was at his side, and his wife was in the room, but he said that he ended his life because of poor health.

"Robert Tracy, the clerk on duty at the station, was not satisfied with the report and turned it over to the detective assigned for investigation. The detective assigned to the case interviewed Mrs. Clark and then made a perfunctory report verifying what the patrolman had learned. Tracy was still dubious and called for my attention to the case. The fact that Clark was in his night clothes and was found lying on his back impressed Tracy. He insisted that there was a possibility of a murder. He was so insistent that I gave him permission to work on the case himself.

"Tracy made inquiry in the neighborhood of the Clark home and ascertained that Clark had not been ill, but, on the contrary, had been going about his work every day up to the time of his death, and that the night before his death had chatted pleasantly with a neighbor. He also learned that Clark's life had been insured for $1000.

"He also established the fact that the Clarks had become acquainted through a matrimonial agency, that Mrs. Clark had formerly been a circus bareback rider and that subsequent to her marriage to Clark had been carrying on a correspondence with a sailor who was serving time in an Eastern prison for highway robbery.

"He completed his case by finding a neighbor of the Clarks who reluctantly admitted that she heard Clark cry out, 'Oh mamma, don't do that!' the exclamation being followed by a shot. Tracy concluded that Clark had awakened in time to see his wife pointing the revolver at him and was shot before he had an opportunity to arise.

"Mrs. Clark, following her arrest, made a confession in which she said she had killed her husband because he had insulted her. She was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Daily has since been promoted to Lieutenant of Police."

Pinkerton Recalls Capture of Four Crooks

WILLIAM A. PINKERTON, head of a detective agency, recalled the capture of four notorious yegmen here 16 years ago. It was while his agency was engaged in trailing Rudolph and Collins, two newspaper men who had killed William Shumacher, a Pinkerton operative, when the latter found them in a farmhouse near Union, Mo., where they had robbed a bank.

DEATH RATE OF NEGROES DOUBLE THAT OF WHITES

Schmoll, in Report, Attributes Situation to Housing Conditions and Under-nourishment of Children.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR DEPARTMENT URGED

Retiring Director Especially Recommends Health Relief for Negroes to Combat Ravages of Tuberculosis.

The death rate among negroes in St. Louis was almost double the death rate among whites during the city's fiscal year ending last April 13, according to the report of John Schmoll, retiring Director of Public Welfare, made public today.

Schmoll attributes this condition among negroes to their crowded manner of living. Further evidence of this condition cited in the report is the fact that the death rate from tuberculosis among negroes was three times higher than the death rate from tuberculosis among whites.

Other statistics disclose that the death rate among negro children between the ages of 5 and 15 years was 15 times greater than among white children; under 6 years a trifle more than eight times as great, and between the ages of 15 and 24, four and one-half times as great. Schmoll thinks that the excessive death rate among negro children is due to under-nourishment, as well as improper housing. He points out that the "appalling" death rate from tuberculosis among negroes is a mirror of the health of the entire population and he recommends that a commission of experts on sanitation, proper ventilation, housing and medical care be appointed to make a report to the Mayor, setting forth measures for the health relief of the negro population.

Says Personnel Is Efficient.

Schmoll commends the many accomplishments of divisions under his direction, but finds in nearly all some lack for which he suggests remedies. He commends the organization personnel to his successor, stating that it is efficient and economical. "It is indeed hoped," he states, "that the incoming director, in selecting his help, will bear these things in mind, so that the department will not suffer with the change of administration."

A summary of Director Schmoll's discussion of the various city institutions and divisions of the department follows:

City Hospital.—The hospital is improving in efficiency, but is experiencing difficulty in obtaining pupils nurses, because of the inadequacy of compensation. The hospital is well equipped with modern equipment with remuneration for girls in other vocations. The clinic building which will replace the present central dispensary is nearing completion. There is a need for a ward for the care of tuberculous patients.

City Hospital No. 2 (for negroes).—Reconstruction and enlargement of the hospital building must be undertaken at once, as the present efficiency of the institution will be greatly impaired. He urges the establishment of a separate tuberculosis ward in the hospital and advises the assignment of an X-ray operator to the hospital.

City Sanitarium Crowded.

City Sanitarium.—Recently referred to in a survey of the National Society of Mental Hygiene, as the best in the State. Cost of operation, $17 per capita per month, compared with cost in similar State institutions of $23, a saving to taxpayers of about $172,850 a year. The institution is at present overcrowded, inmates sleeping in halls and on mattresses placed upon the floors. Occupational therapy department has been established.

Isolation Hospital — Operation hampered because Government has one of the buildings under lease for its Public Health Hospital.

Original building plan should be completed as soon as possible.

City Dispensary — Handicap of quarters.

Quarters on Chestnut at City Hospital. There were 67,403 dispensary consultations during the year. All of the patients being poor patients. The number of patients treated was 29,039. Application for treatment for dog bites came from 1608 persons, of whom 57 were given Pasteur treatment.

Keokuk Hospital.—Improvements of the building group should be undertaken immediately. Bond issue appropriation of $250,000 will take care of establishment of incipient colony, but a sanatorium building for the treatment of advanced cases is badly needed.

MORAL SUPPORT OF PEOPLE IS URGED FOR POLICE FORCE

August Vollmer, Newly Elected Head of Chiefs'
Association, Says Officer's
Calling Is a Science.

VISITORS APPLAUD TREATMENT IN CITY

Shouts of Approval Greet Mayor Kiel's Expressions of Good Will as Convention
Closes With Banquet.

August Vollmer, Chief of Police of Berkeley, Cal., who yesterday was elected president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, at the banquet at Hotel Jefferson last night in honor of the police convention delegates and their wives, said that policemen are deeply concerned in their work, public opinion to the contrary.

"The police institution is the very foundation of the political and social structure of the United States," he said. "No city gets better government than it deserves and no city will ever get an ideal police department until it places its moral support behind the department."

"The average policeman is called upon nearly every day to answer off-hand questions that Supreme Courts take months to decide. The policeman does a great deal more than simply make arrests. He has elevated his calling to a science. He realizes that his function is not only to capture criminals but to prevent crime. He knows that he must go to prison and dam crime at its source.

"Criminologists have declared that more than 50 per cent of our criminals are mental defectives. That means that if you don't take care of the police with crime we must go to the school room and rescue the children before they have had opportunity to develop vicious tendencies.

"In time men will be trained for police work with as much care as men are trained for the legal and medical professions. What society achieves will not be through arts, sciences or industries, but through the development of character, and that can be accomplished only by the police departments of the country."

Public Attitude Fair.

Victor J. Miller, president of the Board of Police Commissioners of St. Louis, said that the attitude of the public toward the police was no fair. "It is just an ordinary cop when you don't need him," he said, "but when your child is lost or your home is robbed the cop is your best friend. I have been interesting myself seriously in the things that will bring the police into closer and happier relation with the people who pay for the service.

"The policeman is entitled to every honor that can be bestowed upon him because of the institution that he represents. If it were not for this law enforcement body we could not go upon the streets without paying tribute to criminals."

Only Place for Politics.

"Politics has no place in police work. A man's political creed should have no bearing upon his qualifications as a policeman. When he goes into the police force he works you play into the hands of the people who make a livelihood by breaking the laws. The politician never asks the police for something he should have; it is always something he doesn't need."

Approval for St. Louis.

Gov. Hyde, who was on the program for an address, was unable to attend. Mayor Kiel expressed the hope that the visiting chiefs and their wives had enjoyed their stay in St. Louis and that they would carry away kindly recollections of the city. He was interrupted by shouts of "We have had a great time" and "We'll never forget St. Louis."

Maj. Richard Sylvester of Wilmington, Del., former Chief of Police of Washington, D. C., who was referred to by the toastmaster, Martin J. Collins, as having guarded many Presidents of the United States, recalled his early residence in St. Louis. He stated out here as a newspaper reporter when Eugene Field was writing verses for newspapers.

William A. Pinkerton was introduced as the dean of the police fraternity, but could not be prevailed upon to make an address. He arose from his seat at the speakers' table and the diners stood in his honor and applauded him.

Diamond-studded emblem buttons were presented to Chief Martin O'Brien, the host, and Chief Joseph M. Quigley of Rochester, N. Y., the retiring president of the association. Mrs. Hyde and the wives of the St. Louis Police Commissioners occupied a table near the speakers.

Full Text of Article 27 of Mexican Constitution, Center of the American Opposition

THE full text of Article 27 of the Mexican Constitution of 1917 is given herewith. This is the article which has brought out the greatest opposition from American interests in Mexico, especially persons having to do with Mexican oil properties.

The following text is taken from the Supplement to The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science for May, 1917. The translation was made by Mr. H. N. Branch for "The Nation."

Article 27. The ownership of lands and waters comprised within the limits of the national territory is vested originally in the nation, which has had, and has the right to transmit title thereof to private persons, thereby constituting private property.

Private property shall not be expropriated except for reasons of public utility and by means of indemnification.

The nation shall have at all times the right to impose on private property such limitations as the public interest may demand as well as the right to regulate the development of natural resources, which are susceptible of appropriation in order to distribute the public wealth. For this purpose necessary measures shall be taken to divide large landed estates, to develop small land holdings, to establish new centers of rural population with such lands and waters as may be indispensable to them; to encourage agriculture and to prevent the destruction of rural resources; and to protect property from damage detrimental to society. Settlements, hamlets situated on private property, and communities of this nature which do not possess them in sufficient quantities for their needs shall have the right to be provided with them from the adjoining properties, always having regard for small landed holdings. Wherefore, all grants of lands made up to the present time of the decree of January 6, 1915, are confirmed.

Private property shall be considered as taken for public utility in the nation is vested direct ownership of all minerals or substances which, in veins, layers, masses, or beds constitute deposits whose nature is different from the components of the land, such as minerals from which metals and metalloids are used for industrial purposes are extracted; beds of precious stones, rock salt and salt lakes formed directly by marine waters, products derived from the decomposition of rocks, when the exploitation requires underground work; phosphates which may be used for fertilizers; solid mineral fuels; petroleum and hydrocarbons—solid, liquid or gaseous.

In the nation is likewise vested the ownership of the waters of territorial seas to the extent and in the terms fixed by the law of nations; of the lakes and inlets of bays; those of interior lakes of natural formation which are directly connected with flowing waters; those of principal rivers or tributaries of the national territory; and of the waters in their main body; the waters of rivers, streams, or ravines, when they bound the national territory or that of the States; waters extracted from mines; and the beds and banks of rivers, streams and ravines, heretofore mentioned, to the extent fixed by law. Any other stratum of water not comprised within the foregoing enumeration shall be considered as an integral part of the private property through which it flows; but the development of the waters when they pass from one landed property to another shall be based on the sum at which the private property through which it flows is subject to the provisions prescribed by the States.

In the cases to which the two foregoing paragraphs refer, the ownership of the waters shall be held by the nation, and may not be lost by prescription; concessions shall be granted by the Federal Government to private parties, civil or commercial corporations organized under the laws of Mexico, only on condition that said resources be regularly developed, and on the further condition that the development of the waters shall be subject to the provisions prescribed by the States.

Only Mexicans by birth or naturalization and Mexican companies shall have the right to acquire ownership in lands, waters and their appurtenances, or to obtain concessions to develop mines, waters, or mineral fuels in the Republic of Mexico. The nation may grant the same right to foreigners, provided they agree before the Department of Foreign Affairs to be considered as Mexicans in respect to such property, and accordingly not to invoke the protection of their Governments in respect to the same, under penalty, in case of breach of forfeiture to the nation of property so acquired. Within a zone of 100 kilometers from the frontiers, and of 50 kilometers from the sea coast, no foreigner shall under any conditions acquire direct ownership of lands and waters.

If the religious institutions known as churches, irrespective of creed, shall in no case have legal capacity to acquire, hold, or administer real property or loans made on such real property; all such real property or

HUGHES' MEXICAN POLICY REGARDED AS COMPROMISE

Observers' View He Has Taken Line Between Fall and Those Favoring Recognition at Once.

REASONS BEHIND HIS STATEMENT

One Object Said to Be to Satisfy Britain and France.
That U. S. Has Situation in Hand.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Secretary Hughes' statement of American policy towards Mexico, given out early this week by the State Department, after the Cabinet had canvassed the whole subject of our Latin-American relations, is regarded by constant observers here as a compromise between the extreme views held by Secretary of the Interior Fall and the opinion of those who would recognize the Obregon administration without further ado.

As explained by the Secretary of State, the fundamental point sought to be gained by the treaty of commerce and amity, which the United States has offered Mexico, is recognition of American property rights acquired before promulgation of the Carranza constitution of 1917.

The position taken by Fall, while a Senator, following an investigation made by a committee of which he was head, was that the United States should demand not only satisfaction of American property interests but should insist on certain other concessions, such as abrogation of the clause in the Mexican Constitution permitting the President to expel foreigners at will and a change in the national laws to secure greater freedom of religious practice. Fall, moreover, would not require Obregon to sign a protocol binding him to a treaty along the foregoing lines.

On the other hand, extreme pro-Mexican sentiment wanted prompt recognition of the existing Obregon administration, without any strings tied to it.

Reasons for Statement.

Hughes' statement was put out for three main reasons: First, it is intended to satisfy American interests in Mexico that this country is not vacillating on the Mexican problem, but has formed a definite policy. Second, it is designed to let Obregon know exactly what he must do to get American support, which the country greatly needs. Third, it serves notice on Europe, particularly France and Great Britain, that this country has the right to demand that Europe has been demanding, something be done to bring Mexico back into step with the rest of the world. Failure by the United States to act might result in foreign countries stepping in.

The whole controversy between the United States and Mexico hinges on the interpretation which is to be placed by the nation's Congress on article 27 of the Carranza constitution of 1917. This article nationalizes the sub-surface resources of the country. It was meant primarily to cover the oil lands, but the question arose whether this article would be retroactive, American oil concerns had gone into Mexico and acquired property rights under the old laws. If the article were retroactive, their property would be confiscated by the Mexican Government without compensation.

Secretary Hughes in his statement does not question the right of Mexico to nationalize its resources, but insists that in so doing it must recognize private property interests acquired prior to 1917. That is the issue in dispute. Carranza frightened the United States with several decisions which indicated that he was for a retroactive application of article 27. Obregon, since coming into power, has denied that the purpose of the Mexican Government was confiscatory, but there has been no formal agreement committing him to a non-confiscation policy. This is what the American Government now seeks to obtain.

Extremely Nationalistic.

Since 50 per cent of the population of Mexico is illiterate, it cannot be expected that the public opinion, such as would exist in the United States, for or against confiscation of oil lands acquired prior to 1917. The governing class in Mexico, however, is extremely nationalistic. Briefly, the position of this class is that Mexico should have a larger share of the proceeds than it is getting from its oil fields, the richest in the world. These fields are now largely in the hands of foreigners. Mexico will not eliminate its nationalization policy, whatever it may do with regard to pigeon I had working on the case," said Pinkerton, "and one day he phoned to me at my local office that he had fallen in with a gang of safeblowers. He said they were in a house on Chouteau avenue planning a job and wanted him to go in with them. I told him to return immediately to the gang and that I would have them rounded up."

CONSPICUOUS CASES OF POLICE INITIATIVE DESCRIBED BY CHIEFS

"I telephoned to Matthew Kiely, who was Chief of Police at that time, and he sent a half dozen detectives to the house. The gang was taken without a fight, although many revolvers and rounds of ammunition were found in the room occupied by the robbers. Pieces of torn money, which were identified as part of the loot taken in a bank robbery over in Illinois, were found in the room. The robbers were later convicted."

"The funny thing about the arrest was that when my informant returned to the house after the police had released him the landlady became greatly agitated and warned him to make his getaway, telling him that his pals had been arrested and that detectives were still watching the house."

Bridgeport Chief's Story of How He Solved "Trunk Murder" Mystery. P. J. FLANAGAN, Chief of Police of Bridgeport, Conn., is known in his town as the man who solved the trunk murder mystery. He relates that it happened thus:

"On Aug. 20, 1920, policemen went to the home of George Nott, a gambler, on information that there had been a fight. Mrs. Ruth Nott, the wife, stated that her husband had gone away with two men with whom he had engaged in a quarrel. She denied knowing any of the particulars and nothing was done about the case until two days later, when I was informed that two trunks had been moved from the Nott home. We traced one of the trunks to the home of Mrs. Nott's sister and found that it contained clothing belonging to Nott. The following day we learned that Elwood Wade, 22 years old, and Edward Johnson, 24, chauffeurs, had hauled the second trunk from the Nott home."

"We arrested Johnson, and by making him believe that Wade was under arrest and had confessed to the murder of Nott we induced him to disclose where the trunk had been hauled. It was in a sand bank two miles out of Bridgeport and was almost buried when we reached it. Nott's body was inside."

"In all my experience as a policeman I had never seen a body so mutilated. The skull was crushed, the arms were cut and fractured, there was a bullet hole in the abdomen and 15 stab wounds in the back. Johnson related the details of the murder. 'Wade was in love with Mrs. Nott' and had conspired with her to get rid of her husband. Johnson, who was a chum of Wade, assisted in the crime. Nott was in bed in the garret of his home when Wade and Johnson ran downstairs where Wade shot Nott. The latter fell and Mrs. Nott took the pipe from him and struck him on the head and arms but the knife found its way into Wade's back until Nott was dead.

"Mrs. Nott's 15-year-old daughter was in the house at the time and it was to deceive her that two trunks were sent out of the house. She was told that both were being sent to her uncle, Johnson, who was hanged. Johnson was sentenced to life imprisonment and Mrs. Nott 25 years."

Man Returned After Two Brothers Identified Body as His.
J. D. MCCOACH, Chief of Police of Middletown, N. Y., is still trying to solve a mysterious murder which occurred in his town last December. At one time he was sure that he had established the corpus delicti and had found the murderers, but later developments convinced him that he was wrong.

"The body of a man, partly burned, was found in a cinder car in the railroad yards," said he, "and on the strength of a small patch of clothing and a drinker the body was identified as that of a section hand who had disappeared from home."

lands taken up under the old laws. That policy is to require a Government permit for the development of oil and mineral lands and to collect a Government royalty on production. Secretary Hughes says the American Government has no quarrel with that policy, but that it must not be applied so as to oust Americans from legally acquired property.

At least 20 American oil concerns are interested in Mexico. The most conspicuous company in the propaganda which has been long carried on for some form of American intervention is the Mexican Petroleum Co., of which the president and leading spirit is E. L. Doheny of Los Angeles. Doheny has led in most of the recent agitation on the part of the oil companies for a firm policy of protection of American interests.

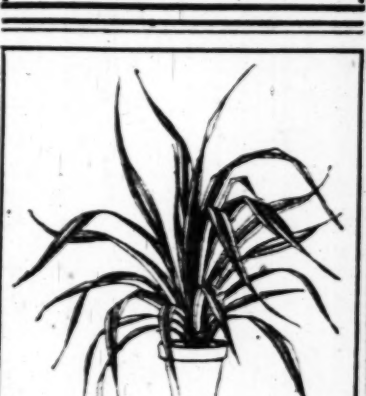

Concerns Interested.
Among the other concerns interested are the Standard and its subsidiaries, the Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., of which Harry Sinclair is the president; the Agui company, which represents the holdings of Joseph Guffey of Pittsburgh, Pa., and the Mexican Gulf Co. and the Tropical Oil Co., in which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon formerly was interested. Tropical Oil is also one of the largest investors in Colombia.

The Mexicans charge that the American oil companies, by propaganda to force intervention and get the American Government to support their chestnuts out of the fire, are largely responsible for all the misunderstandings between the two countries. They charge that the oil companies are seeking greater preferential treatment in Mexico than "Eruption of the skin broke out in small blisters on my brother's body. The blisters would break and in a few days would come out until his body was a solid mass of blisters. He was cross and fretful and couldn't stand any clothing to be on his body, and he irritated the breaking out by rubbing it."

"This trouble lasted for two months and we tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment with good results. When we had used two cans of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Miss Norva Sidwell, R. F. D. 3, Natoma, Kansas.

Easy Way to Remove Freckles and Blotches
Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or the lines. Sun and wind usually play havoc with skin of that kind. In such cases, if one will prepare an ounce of ordinary mercuric wash at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, the cold cream, the lavender can easily be overcome. When the wax is washed off the next morning, freckles and blotches disappear. The entire outer surface is removed in this way. No bleach could be so effective. The new surface is smooth, clean, fresh looking. No harmful ingredients. Absolutely safe. The simple treatment of mercuric wash is a wonderful. A half pint of mercuric wash, a clean face wash which is wonderfully effective. This is the best skin care for freckles.

Obregon to Agree With Americans as Soon as Senate Acts.
By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, June 10.—Mexico is prepared to agree to the suggestions contained in the memorandum brought here from Washington by Charge Summerlin after certain modifications are made by the United States Government, which it is confidently expected will be made, and the relations between the two nations doubtless will be most cordial, according to a statement made yesterday by Secretary of Foreign Relations Pano to the publishers of the newspapers in Mexico City.
The modifications referred to pertain to amendments of the Mexican Constitution which cannot be effected by presidential decree, but must come as a result of action by the Senate, the newspapers were informed.
The publishers were shown all the communications which have passed between Washington and Mexico City, including President Obregon's latest answer to Secretary of State Hughes' note.
The burden of Obregon's note was declared to be for forbearance on the part of the United States until its suggestions can be carried out in a legal manner.
One of the suggestions made in the American memorandum was for a claims commission, and according to the informant of the Associated Press correspondent, Senor Pano asserted that President Obregon readily had agreed on this point and that within a few days he would promulgate a decree authorizing the establishment of this commission as far as Mexico is concerned and also designate its personnel.
This afternoon's conference between Senor Pano and the newspapermen was the result of a virtual demand by the publishers of Mexico City to be enlightened on the true state of affairs existing between Mexico and the United States. Senor Pano was closeted with the newspapermen for more than an hour, during which he allowed them to read all the communications which have passed between the two Governments and also gave them a full explanation of every move the Mexican Government had made.
The conference was described as a secret meeting, held for the purpose of giving information which was not for publication. Various persons who attended it declared, however, that the situation "is far from being serious," and optimism for an eventual amicable solution prevails in all quarters.

WEEKS TO INVESTIGATE MEMOR-MITCHELL FRICTION

Secretary to Act Following Former's Request for Relief of Latter Air Officer.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 10.—A personal investigation of conditions in the army air service and of differences said to exist between Major-General C. T. Menoher, chief of the service, and his assistant, Brigadier-General William Mitchell, will be conducted by Secretary Weeks. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday after the relief of Gen.
Mitchell from his present assignment had been requested in writing
by Gen. Menoher.

Secretary Weeks declined to make public the request, and he refused to set forth the specific reasons which had been given in support of the request. He said, however, that he would not detach either officer pending his investigation.

Secretary Weeks voiced the hope that the incident would be corrected in a quiet way without reflecting publicly upon the records of the two, both of whom, he said, he regarded as excellent men.

The differences between the two Generals is understood to be due largely to lack of agreement on aviation activities and policies. Repeated public statements by Gen.
Mitchell urging a unified air service
since President Harding addressed Congress in opposition to such unification and statements by him before a congressional committee regarding the relative worth of capital naval ships and airplanes are said to be among the reasons leading to the request for his relief.

Testimony Erroneously Reported.

In the report of the inquest in the case of Frank O'Donnell in yesterday's Post-Dispatch it was erroneously stated that William Mullen, bartender at 615 North Vandeventer avenue, testified that he saw John T. Collins jump on O'Donnell and bite him. Mullen testified only that he saw the men scuffling. His testimony was confused with that of a detective, who told of O'Donnell's statement to him after the fight.

The Greatest Crusade Of the Ages

Is the way the Tacoma News-Tribune refers to the agitation in America for a "Naval Holiday," while the New York World declares that the United States Senate's acceptance of Senator Borah's plan for naval disarmament is "a long step forward in the campaign against competitive armament," and consequently "a step toward sanity." The U. S. Senate's unanimous indorsement of the Borah amendment proposing a conference by the United States, Japan, and Great Britain after weeks of opposition convinces many observers that the tide of popular revolt against the ruinous race of the nations to surpass one another in armament has become so strong that it can no longer be stemmed. "It is nothing less than a crime," declares Senator Borah. "A crime against humanity that the three great nations, associated in the late war, should be taxing their people to death and driving on toward bankruptcy at a double rate of speed in order to build up fighting forces never before heard of in the world." Tokyo dispatches report a growing desire for disarmament among the Japanese people, and a Japanese correspondent of the New York Evening Post claims official authority for the statement that "Japan will gladly accept an invitation to a disarmament conference whenever President Harding issues a call;" while a London dispatch to the New York Herald says that "an official invitation from the United States to Great Britain to participate in a conference on naval disarmament will be enthusiastically welcomed here."

Carpentier Does Only Light Work; Gains 2 Pounds

Big Crowd Disappointed When He Goes Through Only Perfunctory Workout.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Georges Carpentier worked for the busybodies at Manhasset yesterday, and ran in blinkers. After having assigned yesterday as "boxing day," that the great army of home and visiting scribes could get an eyeful, Georges gave "the boys" an all-seeing peek at—nothing.

Oh, yes; he cuffed the "balon," as he calls the light punching bag. He dug his well-chiseled hands into the small sandbag to harden them for the coming contact with Dempsey's jaw, and he did an old-fashioned, sidewalk "pepper-salt-mustard-vinegar" with the skipping rope.

and Gus Wilson, his trainer, said that he would not box for the eagle eyes until next Monday. But Georges had been boxing, and there was no way of hiding the fact, inasmuch as Journee, the giant, was about the quarters wearing a Jack Dempsey plaster over his left eye.

Journée had felt the sting of the flying left evidently, and from outward appearances he will be off the boxing schedule for a few days. The cut over his eye looks every bit as treacherous as the one Dempsey is sporting around Atlantic City.

MILLER, TIGER COACH, RESIGNS TO ACCEPT A POSITION AT ALBION
COLUMBIA, Mo., June 10.—John P. Miller, member of the coaching staff at the University of Missouri for the last five years and head football coach for the last two years, announced today that he had accepted an appointment to be athletic director at Albion College, Albion, Mich. Miller expects to leave here about Aug. 20 to assume his new duties. Yesterday Dr. J. C. Jones, acting president of the university, authorized an increase in Miller's salary for the coming year, and agreed that his appointment should stipulate that he should be head coach of football. This action met Miller's terms and it was supposed that he would remain at Missouri at least one more year. This morning, however, a new offer came from Albion, offering Miller a three-year contract and a substantial increase in salary each year, was then that Miller decided to accept the Michigan offer. At Albion college Miller will be director of athletics and will coach football, basketball and baseball.

Carpentier Does Only Light Work; Gains 2 Pounds

Big Crowd Disappointed When He Goes Through Only Perfunctory Workout.

From a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 10.—George Carpentier worked for the busybodies at Manhasset yesterday, and ran in blunders. After having assigned yesterday as "boxing day," that the great army of home and visiting scribes could get an eyeful, Georges gave "the boys" an all-seeing peek at—nothing.

Oh, yes; he cuffed the "balon," as he calls the light punching bag. He dug his well-chiseled hands into the small sandbag to harden them for the coming contact with Dempsey's jaw, and he did an old-fashioned, sidewalk "paper-salt-mustard-vinegar" with the skipping rope.

Boxing was not even hinted at, and Gus Wilson, his trainer, said that he would not box for the eagle eyes until next Monday. But Georges had been boxing, and there was no way of hiding the fact, inasmuch as Journee, the giant, was about the quarters wearing a Jack Dempsey plaster over his left eye.

Journee had felt the sting of the flying left evidently, and from outward appearances he will be off the boxing schedule for a few days. The cut over his eye looks every bit as treacherous as the one Dempsey is sporting around Atlantic City.

One of the largest crowds that has seen Georges work to date was on hand. Not that Georges held open house. Indeed, he did not. Scribes were admitted at the big front gate only after a display of proper credentials, but the real crowd went around about way and by sneaking it through the grass, young corn and buckwheat of the neighboring estates the company was swelled to about 1000 persons.

Half the grass creepers were Long Island women, who wanted a close-up of the golden-haired idol of France. They were most disappointed because they missed seeing Carpentier crash into his Jeanette, Journee and broad-beamed Joe Gans. Rope skipping they could do themselves.

The Carpentier camp confessed to 174 pounds yesterday. That being the case, handsome Georges is just one and one-half pounds heavier than when he started to train. There is a peculiar reason why all this may be. When Georges Carpentier works, Gus Wilson, his faithful trainer, and Manager Bockenkamp are constantly around him cooling him off with flying towels. Georges is never allowed to perspire freely, if they can help it. Georges aids in this by going about his work in the easiest fashion possible. He uses up as little energy as possible.

Georges Glad to See Coulon. Little Johnny Coulon went down to see Georges yesterday, and let it be said that our former bantamweight champion is the only man from blue-blood to boob that has ever stopped a Carpentier training show. Carpentier came up out of that chain of indifference which borders on contempt and actually fawned on our Jawn. Carpentier was skipping the rope and stopped to smile and say "Hello, Zhoonie." Coulon ran up the stairs of the open-air platform and Dempsey and Gus Wilson embraced our wateh-fob man.

Carpentier was delighted to meet up with "Zhoonie," and he kept telling him so, backing it up with the finest smile he has uncorked since the barbed wire went up.

Carpentier's Left Eyebrow, Like Dempsey's, Tender From Old Wound

Jack's Mishap Recent, However, While Georges' Was Suffered in 1913 in Battle With Pa Pke—Referee Stopped Bout Because Frenchman Could No Longer See.

By Robert Edgren.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Down at Atlantic City the Dempsey camp is worrying over that "soft" left eyebrow of Jack's, which is slow at healing, because it has been cut several times in training bouts before this. Jamaica Kid ripped that eyebrow first at Toledo three weeks before Dempsey met Willard. A glancing left swing did the trick.

It healed well enough to stand the training work after a few days of rest, but Dempsey's sparring partners were cautioned against musing up that eyebrow thereafter. They could hit Jack on the chin or the nose, and he had no complaint, but he did not want a half-healed cut over his eye when he got into the ring with Willard.

One of Willard's jabs might open it, and while no real damage would be done, Dempsey would appear to be in bad shape, and a little blood might influence the referee in giving a decision if the bout went the scheduled 12 rounds.

While there's no decision in the coming Carpentier match, Dempsey doesn't care to look like a loser through having a cut over his left eye. Another thing, a severe cut along the eyebrow, bleeding at times, is likely to interfere with the sight of a fighter's left eye—which is the eye nearest the enemy and naturally most active in seeing blows in time to block, avoid or counter.

That's why Jack has been punching the light and the heavy bags since last Sunday, has increased his road work and general training, and cut out boxing.

Scar on Carpentier's Eyebrow.

It might be some consolation to Dempsey to know that Carpentier also has a left eyebrow that isn't as tough as sole leather. Looking closely at the Frenchman you may notice that he doesn't carry a scar of his trade, in spite of his many fights—except—and here you have to look very closely—a thin white line along the upper edge of the left eyebrow.

George Engel, manager of Frank Klaus when Frank fought Carpentier in France some years ago, stood beside me at Carpentier's place and watched the Frenchman boxing with Joe Jeanette.

"Looks as if no boxing glove had ever landed on him," I said.

"The only scar he has didn't come from a boxing glove," said Engel. "But you take a good look at his left eyebrow. I saw him get that in the fight with Papke."

"When they fought," Engel went on, "Carpentier was forced to do 160 pounds, the middleweight limit, and as he was naturally about six or eight pounds heavier in fine condition, he had to half kill himself to do it. I know myself that he didn't have a bite to eat or a drop of water or anything else for 17 hours before he got into the ring, and he was baked and steamed and dried out to the limit, barely making the weight at that."

Georges Weak From Making Weight.
"He was so weak that for 14 rounds Papke slaughtered him, and it looked as if George didn't have a chance in the world. He could hardly put his hands up, from the start. Then in the tenth, Carpentier began to come back and Papke was arm weary from hitting him. For six rounds George beat Papke all over the ring. It was the greatest rally I ever saw."

"In the seventeenth both of them started right and hit at the same time, and their heads came together with a crash. The top of Papke's head caught George on the left eyebrow and cut him clear across, from his nose to his cheek bone. The eyebrow dropped down over his eye like a flap, blinding him. He went right on fighting, but the crowd

DEMPSEY WILL NOT BE PERMITTED TO RESUME HIS BOXING TOMORROW

By the Associated Press. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10.—Jack Dempsey displayed his curiosity for the first time yesterday in loosing the fighting style of Georges Carpentier.

Dempsey sought this first-hand information from a newspaper correspondent and old-time friend, who had just arrived from a week's stay in the French boxer's camp. The heavy-weight champion wanted to know if Carpentier fought from a crouch or hit from a standing-up position and the position from which he started the dangerous right-hand punch.

When told that Carpentier fought from a standing position, rather than a crouch, Dempsey asked: "Is he hard to hit? If I can hit him, I can lick him."

Dempsey was told that Carpentier was a sharp, accurate hitter and was liable to whip anybody he could reach with the first punch. The champion, after thinking for a second, remarked that he had plenty of speed himself and was hitting with greater force than ever.

The plan to have Dempsey resume boxing tomorrow was switched today. The champion may not put the gloves on again until Sunday. The cut over his left eye is healing rapidly.

CARPENTIER ABANDONS REGULAR BOXING DAYS; REAL WORK IN PRIVATE

By the Associated Press. MANHASSET, June 10.—Georges Carpentier's physical condition is now such that it would be foolish for him to train too hard, Fanoos Desamps, his manager, said today. This statement, he said, did not mean that the challenger was not working, but Desamps bore out the fact most of the real hard work was being done in private.

"Georges is happy," he said today, and "has no fear for the coming fight. We want to keep him in this frame of mind, but with a lot of scarecrows around there is no telling what might happen. Georges wants to win and believes he is good enough to do it."

"He will spar on no certain days—perhaps today, and perhaps not. When he doesn't work with his sparring partners he'll be given more to do while on the road."

Midland Valley Golfers Meet in District Final

Bockenkamp and Manion Victors Over Watts and Stickney in Semifinals.

With Richard Bockenkamp, playing-through champion, and James Manion meeting in the 36-hole final round match at Glen Echo tomorrow, the Midland Valley Country Club is certain to hold the St. Louis District Golf Association championship at least another year.

Four times since they have attained their places among the select set of local golfers, these young men have met in tournament competition, and each of them owns two victories. Their last meeting came in the final round of the city championship on the public course last summer, and in that match Bockenkamp won a 2 and 1 decision by playing super-golf in the afternoon round.

Both have met stubborn obstacles in reaching the last bracket during the present tournament, and have had to exert their greatest efforts to survive. On the whole, Manion has shown slightly more consistent form, but his opponent is known as being essentially a match player, and his infrequent shortcomings do not seem to disturb his followers.

Both "Money Players."
Besides their enviable execution, both players have a quality which will insure a worthy match for the championship. It is their ability to stand under the strain, it is that undefinable something which makes real champions—nerve and a stout heart.

Their presence in the last match is a result of rather easy victories, yesterday in the semifinals. Bockenkamp beat Lawson Watts, Glen Echo's premier player, down to 3 and 2 defeat; while Manion won over the veteran Country Club player, Stuart Stickney, 4 and 2.

The champion probably "dubbed" more tee shots in his play yesterday than he has during any tournament within the past two years. Time and again he was short on the drives, but he usually made up on his seconds. His short approaches, which usually are fine, seemed to be slow-played. But then Bockenkamp, as mentioned before, is a true match player, and when pressed, he managed to recover.

Watts Misses Several Chances.
Watts had numerous opportunities to slip into advantageous positions with any kind of real championship class mashes shots or slightly longer than usual putts, but he was found wanting. He is generally a player with great dash and determination, but yesterday the usual cock-sureness was absent.

The Glen Echo player assumed the initiative during the early holes of the match and twice during the first four holes held a one-up advantage. However, his opponent would come right back and even the count. A situation which seemed to have some effect on the Watts play. Bockenkamp went into the lead on the sixth green and never thereafter did he relinquish that hold. He went out in a 38 three strokes less than the defeated candidate, and held a 2-up edge at the turn. He finished out his 18 holes in 71 to Watts' 74.

Manion at His Best.
Jimmy Manion was on his game during the entire match and Stickney did not seem to have a chance at any stage of the game. James took a par 26 for both the outward and incoming trips for a 52 total on the match. He went ahead on No. 2, when the Country Club entrant met a mess of trouble and required a six to sink. The match score was the same on No. 6, but the next three holes were all midland players and he held a four-hole edge at the halfway mark.

Manion's climax on this nine came at the last hole, when he pitched over the lake and then sank a 10-foot putt for a "birdie" two. Stickney was unable to follow the breach and the play ended on No. 16.

WHEN NATURE WON'T PLUTO WILL

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

TOO LATE NOW.

When I was young, and filled with keen ambition
I happened, in a current magazine
To read a piece which said that inaction
Was needful to one's bodily machine.
"To work too many hours," wrote the writer
"Will ruin any man, however strong;
Confine yourself to labors that are lighter
And you will live full happily, and long."

And so I gave up all my heavy labors
And spent the day—or most of it—in bed,
And though I was derided by my neighbors
I smiled to think they all would soon be dead.
While I, still strong in mind, and lusty hearted
With undimmed eye, and undiminished zest,
Would watch them one by one, as they departed
Because I'd had the sense to take my rest.

But now another scientific fellow
Declares that relaxation doesn't pay,
And that you'll not be hale and hard and mellow
Unless you work for eighteen hours a day.
He says that toll builds up the bone and muscle
And keeps a person always in his prime,
And if you don't continuously hustle
You'll die a score of years before your time.

I've made my will, and done my fond farewelling
For though I still am reasonably strong,
And eat and sleep, there isn't any telling
What moment I may have to go along.
For on that early piece I so depended
That I became a thorough-going shirk,
My days upon this earth must soon be ended,
Because I've quite forgotten how to work!

NEVER MIND THE JEWELS. A maid in a New York family departed with the family gems, and her employer is advertising for the return of the maid.

Not a Bad Excuse.

"That new clerk of ours won't do," said the junior member.

"Why not?" asked the head of the firm.

"He was an hour late the first morning he came to work."

"I spoke to him about that. He said he overslept because he sat up until 3 o'clock in the morning writing out-of-town friends and relatives about what a splendid concern had given him a job. We need a quick thinker around here and I guess we'd better keep him."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Here to Blame.

He was applying for a divorce, and the Judge was endeavoring to find out just what difficulties lay between them.

"Aren't your relations pleasant?" he asked.

"Oh, yes," replied the gloomy benedict. "Mine are all right, but her's are the most unpleasant lot I ever met."—Milwaukee Journal.

Glad She Does.

"How can you stand your wife spending her time at club and surfage meetings beats me. If I were you I'd tell her she should be home doing the cooking."

HIGH PRICES OF SHOES DUE TO TAKING OF BIG PROFITS

Federal Trade Commission Tells House Earnings of Manufacturers, Tanners and Dealers Were Out of All Proportion to Increases of Cost to Them.

ADVANCE WAS ENDED BY "BUYERS' STRIKE"

Profits of Wholesalers and Jobbers Averaged 22 Per Cent on Investment in 1918 and 31 in 1919—Further Declines Held to Be Justified.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 11.—High prices of footwear which, obtained during 1918 and were increased in 1919 resulted from "abnormal conditions of supply and demand, both economical and psychological, arising from the war," the Federal Trade Commission today reported to the House of Representatives. The report was submitted in response to a resolution.

"Incident to these conditions," the report added, "were large margins of profit taken by tanners, shoe manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers," whose large earnings were declared to be "out of all proportion to the increase in their cost per unit."

The advance in the price of shoes finally was terminated by the so-called "buyers' strike" in the spring of 1920, according to the report.

Based on actual cost, the report declined to state how much the prices after the "buyers' strike" were attributed by the commission to a tendency to base selling prices on actual rather than replacement costs, and to the fact that other prices had not declined as much as had raw materials.

"In any event," the report concluded, "the present price of hides and skins and the condition existing in these phases of industry justify an expectation of still further declines in the quoted prices of leather and shoes."

The report claims large profits of the part of the tanners, shoe manufacturers and wholesalers and retailers in 1918 and 1919. Earnings of 361 reporting shoe manufacturers representing 62 per cent of the 1919 production, averaged 16.2 per cent on their total investment, according to the commission's figures.

Selling prices increased rapidly. "These large earnings of tanners and shoe manufacturers," the report says, "were due primarily to the fact that their selling prices increased out of all proportion to the increase in their costs of production."

Earnings of 32 typical shoe wholesalers and jobbers averaged about 22 per cent on the investment in 1918 and about 31 per cent in 1919. Earnings of 46 typical shoe retailers averaged about 25 per cent in 1918 and about 32 per cent in 1919. These earnings, like those of the tanners and manufacturers, resulted from wide margins of profit taken on each shoe sold.

There was an important decrease in the supply of imported hides in 1918 and 1919, the commission said, but it could not subscribe to the reason why prices of shoes soared even after hide stocks were available in quantity and quotations lower.

The commission notes a change in the retail demand to a higher grade of shoes in spite of the greater price exacted. This was in addition, according to the report, to a marked demand for shoes in 1919, but slackening followed in 1920, with the "buyers' strike" took on nationwide scope.

KANSAS ANTI-SYNDICALISM LAW DOES NOT BAR DISLOYALTY

Supreme Court Holds Act of Does Not Keep Members of L. W. W. From State. By the Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kan., June 11.—The Kansas anti-syndicalism law passed by the 1920 Legislature does not bar members of disloyal organizations from entering the State to decide, rendered today by the supreme court. The decision affords an appeal from the Montague County District Court in a suit against C. E. Berquist, alleged L. W. member.
